The Mission of the Church and the Mission of United

The earliest Methodists were purposeful about the mission of God in and through the Church. What was this mission? At the London Conference of 1744, their statement of purpose was formally adopted: “To reform the nation, more particularly the Church; to spread scriptural holiness over the land.” The mission of the Methodists included reformation of the Church so that it could faithfully fulfill God’s purposes in the world.

The United Methodist Church and the larger family of the Christian Church have been endowed and entrusted with the legacy of Christ’s mission to the world. We take to heart this Great Commission: "Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, and teaching them to obey everything I have commanded you..." (Matthew 28:19-20 NRSV).

In the Wesleyan theological tradition, this mission is necessarily paired with the Great Commandment: "You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your mind ... and ... you shall love your neighbor as yourself" (Matthew 22:37-39; NRSV).

The mission of God, we believe, is always a product of the genuine, pure love that has its infinite source in God. It is the mission of reconciling, life giving love incarnated and made known to the world in Jesus Christ. What is the role of United Theological Seminary in this mission? We share with other schools a mission outlined in The Book of Discipline, which is: "preparing persons for leadership in the ministry ... ; leading in the ongoing reflection on Wesleyan theology; and ... assisting the church in fulfilling its mission to make disciples of Jesus Christ" (par. 1422).

United’s programs are designed to prepare leaders who can renew the Church for its mission of proclaiming the Gospel and making disciples of Jesus Christ in today’s world. This mission and our programs are explicitly ecumenical, welcoming the theological, cultural and denominational diversity that the Christian Church comprises.

We celebrate the privilege of being part of this extraordinary mission, and we welcome the possibility of serving you as you figure out and follow God’s dynamic call in your life!

History

United Theological Seminary traces its history back to the former Church of the United Brethren in Christ and The Evangelical Church. Both denominations were made up of largely German-speaking immigrant communities, and both bodies traced their theological roots to the Wesleyan/Methodist movement and other Protestant missions in the eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries in North America.

In 1871, The Church of the United Brethren in Christ founded Union Biblical Seminary in Dayton, Ohio. In 1910, the name of the school was changed to Bonebrake Theological Seminary. The seminary established its campus at 1810 Harvard Boulevard in Dayton in 1923.

In 1946, The Church of the United Brethren in Christ and The Evangelical Church united to form The Evangelical United Brethren Church. The Evangelical School of Theology, situated in Reading Pennsylvania, on the campus of Albright College, had served The Evangelical Church since 1905, and the union of the two denominations brought about the merger of the two seminaries in 1954 into United Theological Seminary. United Theological Seminary was created by combining the full body of administrative and teaching personnel, the libraries and the financial resources of the two former schools.

With the union of The Evangelical United Brethren Church and The Methodist Church in 1968, United Theological Seminary became one of thirteen theological schools of The United Methodist Church.

In 1995, United established course offering sites in New York and West Virginia. At these locations, students, clergy and laity have benefited from theological education opportunities in geographic areas not readily served by a United Methodist seminary. Need, interest, and available resources of the institution and local areas have determined the nature and extent of educational offerings at each site.

In 2005, United Theological Seminary sold its Harvard Boulevard campus and relocated to a newer, completely accessible facility in the community of Trotwood, four miles to the northwest.

United continues to celebrate its rich heritage and to draw upon the abiding commitment, ecumenical outlook, and religious professions of its founding members in its educational mission to a new generation of church leaders, lay and ordained.

Accreditation and Association

United Theological Seminary is accredited by the Association of Theological Schools in the United States and Canada, and the Higher Learning Commission of the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools, and is approved by the Ohio Board of Regents.

United Theological Seminary’s off-site program in West Virginia is governed by and meets the requirements of specific accreditation bodies. The procedures for accreditation review are available in the seminary’s library.

United Theological Seminary is one of thirteen United Methodist seminaries in the United States and is listed by the University Senate of the denomination as an approved theological school for the education of United Methodist clergy.

United Theological Seminary is a participating member in the Southwestern Ohio Council of Higher Education.

The Greater Dayton Metropolitan Region

The seminary’s location in Dayton, Ohio, provides a wealth of community and church resources for theological education in the heart of southwestern Ohio’s rural-urban-industrial complex.

The Dayton Art Institute, the Public Library, the Dayton Philharmonic Orchestra, Dayton Ballet, Opera, Contemporary Dance, Community and University Theater, the Dayton Dragons baseball team, the churches and the synagogues, the Greater Dayton Y, the Greater Dayton Christian Connection, the University of Dayton, Sinclair College, Wright State University, and scores of other institutions and organizations make the city a center rich with religious and cultural opportunities.

Students find field placement in area churches and in community agencies such as child development centers, Goodwill Industries, community health programs, mental health centers, and various municipal programs in connection with urban development, housing, poverty, and community action programs.

Students work under the supervision of chaplains and counselors in ACPE accredited programs in clinical pastoral education at The Upper Valley Medical Center (Troy), Kettering Medical Center (Kettering), Grandview Hospital (Dayton), The Veteran’s Administration Hospital (Dayton), and other settings. Miami Valley Hospital (Dayton) offers clinical pastoral education under accreditation by the College of Pastoral Supervision and Psychotherapy.

Many churches offer opportunities for ministry. Community centers, such as the Wesley Center supported by the West Ohio Conference of The United Methodist Church, provide opportunities for service to low income and disadvantaged persons.

The seminary enjoys a close working relationship with the cities of Dayton and Trotwood and the seminary campus provides recreational facilities for children, youth and adults.

The outdoor pool is managed by the Y and is open from Memorial Day to Labor Day each year. A membership to the Y is needed to access this pool, and discounted rates are given to students, staff, and faculty of the seminary. Current information about this program is available through the Trotwood Y.

Master of Divinity (M.Div.)

For those preparing to enter ministry as ordained religious leaders or as lay professional ministers

Purpose

The Master of Divinity degree program is designed for those preparing to enter ministry as ordained religious leaders or as lay professional ministers. This program meets the requirements for ordination in most major Protestant denominations.

The M.Div. degree is designed to:

- Strengthen personal and corporate spiritual life and worship, and deepen relationships with God and others in cooperation with the grace of Jesus Christ and the power of the Holy Spirit
- Provide opportunities for students to engage in rigorous intellectual inquiry of topics related to Christian ministry
- Expose students to aspects of world Christianity and world religions
- Develop self-understanding, spiritual maturity and direction within a Christ-centered seminary community
- Emphasize biblical, Christian teachings, values and heritage
• Accentuate the mission of the Church in both local and global contexts

• Foster understanding that God’s redemptive activity is both personally and socially transformational

• Cultivate the skills and perspectives necessary for the faithful practice of Christian ministry and leadership

Comprehensive in academic focus and process, the Master of Divinity program includes rigorous coursework in both academic and practical disciplines, along with the intentional worship and community life necessary for personal and professional development in ministry. It integrates experience and theological knowledge to develop faithful, transformational leaders for effective and compassionate Christian ministry in the Church and world.

The program’s design requires that all students participate in contextual-theological experiences to increase sensitivity toward a multicultural world and to promote awareness that God’s love and good will extend to the whole of humanity. Growth toward this objective is furthered by coursework that incorporates perspectives from, and texts written by, persons from a variety of cultures.

Within the collegial and consultative setting of the Ministry Formation Groups, students gain expertise in reflecting theologically on their ministerial experiences and classroom learning and benefit from the insight and experience of peers, scholars, mentors and supervisors. Ministry Groups also provide helpful opportunities for students to set educational goals, share personal journeys and engage in self-evaluation. As part of the Ministry Formation experience, all Formation students are required to participate in the seminary community’s corporate worship life and Common Meal.

Curriculum

The Master of Divinity degree can be accomplished in three or four years following our Online or On Campus plans.

Student Orientation
All entering students and transfer students must participate in an online and on campus orientation session that introduces many crucial aspects of life at United. Details can be found at links.united.edu/gtfgc.

Contextual Ministries
At United, preparation for religious leadership in the Church and world requires that students encounter Christ within themselves, their own traditions and other cultures.

This part of United’s curriculum explores contexts for worship, sacramental life, and service. Students are exposed to the unity and diversity of the Church; issues of justice and peace; societies’ global interdependence; the integrity of creation; and servant ministry.

The Contextual Ministries program includes the Formation coursework, Field Education Placements, and Contextual Theological Immersion. See the Contextual Ministries section
Concentrations
The Master of Divinity degree program graduates persons in the general practice of ministry.

Because some students may desire to specialize their degree studies in specific fields, the M.Div. curriculum provides options for academic concentrations. These include Care Giving (Pastoral Care and Counseling), Church Renewal Track 1: Leadership, Church Renewal Track 2: Global Charismatic Studies, and Wesleyan-Methodist Studies.

See the following pages for requirements for each concentration. Students interested in a concentration are encouraged to discuss their interests and needs with their advisors and area faculty.

Schedule
The academic year consists of two semesters: Fall (August-December); Spring (January-June).

Courses are offered within each semester in face-to-face, hybrid, and online modalities.

The flexibility of this model enables full-time students to adjust the number of subjects studied in any given time period while retaining full-time student status.

Many full-time students complete the Master of Divinity degree program in three or four years. Online students can complete the Master of Divinity Degree in three years following the schedule on the website. Part-time students and those with extensive extra-curricular responsibilities should expect to extend the length of time required for successful completion of the degree.

In keeping with the standards set forth by the Association of Theological Schools, all course credits applied toward the M.Div. degree must be earned within ten years of the awarding of the degree.

Dual Degree Options
Two degree programs may be combined and earned together. For example, the 78-semester hour Master of Divinity degree program may be combined with the 48-semester hour Master of Theological Studies degree. While the requirements for both degrees must be met, in most instances this combination can be completed in 102 semester hours.

Students are encouraged to make this determination as early as possible and to seek assistance from faculty, including their advisors, in this regard. See the “Change of Degree” section in the “Academic Policies and Procedures” on page 55 for details.

Denominational Requirements and Offerings (DN)

The Master of Divinity degree program regularly provides opportunities to fulfill denominational requirements for The United Methodist Church, Presbyterian Church (P.C.U.S.A. and P.C.A.), The United Church of Christ, Baptist churches, and others as needed.

Students are responsible for inquiring into the requirements of their respective denominations. United will make special arrangements whenever feasible to ensure that all M.Div. students meet the academic requirements of their denominations.

Denominational courses are generally taught when the number of students in need of them is sufficient. In most cases that will be every two to three years. United Methodist courses are generally offered at least once a year.

Provided that there are at least five students, these courses will be taught in the usual fashion. If there are fewer than five students, the course will be considered a Directed Study and each student will pay the school a $160 per semester hour surcharge at the time of registration to cover the instructor’s stipend.

Candidates for ordination in The United Methodist Church are advised to consult with their annual conference boards of ordained ministry regarding required competencies and areas of study.
These courses are not required for graduation, but many denominations require denominational courses for ordination or various forms of ministry. These courses are also available to help prepare students to meet particular denominational needs and to foster growth in one’s denominational heritage, theological identity and ethos.

Please check the requirements prescribed by your denomination and discuss these with your faculty advisor.

A seminary of the African Methodist Episcopal Church located in nearby Wilberforce, Ohio, Payne offers numerous courses in African American and Black Studies that are available to United students. Please see the Payne website www.payne.edu for the latest listings.

United Online

Online Learning has been developed as a learning modality that enhances the student’s ability to attend courses from a distance (the teacher and students in different locations) with the same rigor and quality as courses offered in the classroom and on campus. Many courses are conducted in asynchronous lessons, meaning that the student can engage in discussions, assignments, and other forms of course work at any time of the day or night as their schedules permit. In some courses there may be synchronous course work, which means the instructor and student meet at the same time of day online. This is agreed upon and planned for by the instructor and students ahead of time.

Some important distinctions need to be understood. Online courses are not the same as learning in the classroom. The student will need to take responsibility for seeking answers and becoming a self-motivated learner. Online courses require good time management, planning, writing, and communication skills. Students will also need adequate technology skills or the willingness to learn technology quickly. There are helpdesk services available to students who need additional help or trouble shooting advice at onlinehelp@united.edu.
Our broad selection of online courses allows you to remain in your ministry context and complete your degree by spending a minimum amount of time on campus each year.

In order to earn your M.Div. degree through United Online you must:

1. Complete a minimum of 1/3 of your M.Div. degree in a face-to-face format. United’s intensive weeks allow you to complete up to half in a face-to-face format. For ordination requirements, please check with your own judicatory.

Contextual Ministries

At United, preparation for religious leadership in the Church and world requires that students encounter Christ within themselves, within their own tradition(s) and within those of other cultures.

Theologically and experientially, this part of United’s curriculum explores local and global contexts for worship, sacramental life, and service; the unity and diversity of the Church and its relationship to other faiths; issues of justice and peace; societies’ global interdependence; the integrity of creation; and servant ministry as both ecumenical and global.

The Contextual Ministries program includes the Formation coursework and Field Education Placements. See the Contextual Ministries section on page 29 for more details.

Schedule
The academic year consists of two semesters: Fall (August-December); Spring (January-June).

Course schedules are developed to accommodate both full-time and part-time students.

Contextual Theology & Immersion Program

Introduction
United’s commitment to contextualized theological education originates in our historic Christian heritage, the cultivation of holiness in both personal and social dimensions of discipleship, Spirit-led church renewal and a living call to Christ-centered community in an unavoidably interreligious world. Within covenantal peer groups each student serves in a community/church placement and learns critically contextual reasoning within the theological disciplines and shared practices of faith toward a supervised discernment of God’s particular calling.

The formation program revolves around identity and spiritual formation, local church or community field education placements and facilitated peer groups for critical theological reflection.

The Contextual Theology & Immersion program toward the end of the degree stretches students' horizons to understand context and collaboration in a global sense.

Contextual Ministries encourages students to develop stronger skills in:
• Spiritual disciplines for a life of holiness amidst the development of professional competence
• Critical understanding(s) of church leadership and corresponding criteria for further development of leadership skills
• Well-bounded relationships for the support of self and ministry
• Discernment of gifts and call as means of professional thriving in ministry
• Identity development and self-understanding leading to a greater capacity to love
• Critical theological reflection that speaks to the church/world, yet weaves concrete experience of the Spirit
• Engagement of cross-cultural and interreligious understanding and communication

Biblical Foundation for Formation
Formation at United is designed to help each student assimilate theology, practical ministry skills, personal life and call exploration through hands-on experiences and small group reflection. Students, while actively serving in a ministry context, are placed into facilitated peer groups, which are guided by four questions from Luke 10:27.

“Love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your strength and with all your mind’; and, ‘Love your neighbor as yourself.’” (Luke 10:27)

1 | What is this ‘love’?
Each student will explore theological assumptions about the nature and mission of God and humanity’s relationship with a God defined as ‘love.’ What do I believe?

2 | How am I to love God with everything?
There is a strong spiritual formation emphasis in each semester that aids students in the exploration of receiving God’s love and posturing one’s life toward continual spiritual renewal: How do I stay in love with God?

3 | What does it mean to love my neighbor?
We pray that each student would wrestle with his or her own calling while presenting case studies, weekly reflection reports and developing and staying accountable to learning goals. The covenantal community of MINGroup will be just one crucible from which to explore the question: How do I understand and thrive in my unique calling?

4 | How might I love the self called ‘me’?
We align many of the resources and experiences in the course to help you develop and name a rooted sense of self that is ironically forged in messy, authentic community with others: Who am I?

Formation
All M. Div. students are required to take in sequence all Formation courses (Formation 1 through Formation 5).
All students in the M. A. degree program are required to take in sequence Formation 1, Formation 2 and Formation 5.

All Formation courses are offered in either Hybrid/Online or On Campus formats.

Formation 1 and 2 (PT 504/505)
All students in the M.Div. and M.A. degree programs are required to complete in sequence PT504 and PT505 in two semesters. In either format, students are placed in a facilitator-led Ministry Group (MINGroup) for the two semesters. On Campus groups meet either on a weekday afternoon or evening for nine weeks each semester. Online groups will begin each semester attending the Formation Retreat and then complete the coursework online the nine weeks following. It is advised that students do not begin their Field Education Placements during Formation 1. Formation 1 and 2 students receive 3 credit hours per year for their satisfactory completion of both course requirements.

Evaluation of a student’s work takes into account the following expectations:
- Completion of all assignments including a spiritual autobiography, genogram, Rule of Life, calling statement and Ministry Reflection Reports.
- Weekly participation in MINGroup interaction, whether online or on campus.
- Attendance and participation in common meal, worship, plenary sessions and group sessions during weekly on campus classes or through the two formation retreats.
- Preparation for and securing of student’s first Field Education commitment.

Formation 3 and 4 (PT 506/507)
Only students in the M.Div. degree program are required to complete in sequence PT506 and PT507 in two semesters. In either format, students are placed in a Ministry Group (MINGroup) for the two semesters. On Campus groups meet either on a weekday afternoon or evening for nine weeks each semester. Online groups will begin each semester attending the Formation Retreat and then complete the coursework online the nine weeks following. Formation 3 and 4 students receive 3 credit hours per year for their satisfactory completion of both course requirements.

Evaluation of a student’s work takes into account the following expectations:
- Completion of all assignments including Ministry Reflection Reports, theology of leadership statement and a statement on grace.
- Weekly participation in MINGroup interaction, whether online or on campus.
- Attendance and participation in common meal, worship, plenary sessions and group sessions during weekly on campus classes or through the two formation retreats.
- Ongoing commitment to and active reflection on one’s Field Education placement.

Formation 5 (PT 606)
All students in the M.Div. and M.A. degree programs are required to complete PT606. In either format, students are placed in a Ministry Group (MINGroup) for the final formation semester. On Campus groups meet either on a weekday afternoon or evening for nine weeks. Online groups will begin the semester attending the Formation Retreat and then complete the coursework online the nine weeks following. Formation 5 students receive 3 credit hours for their satisfactory completion of the course requirements.
Evaluation of a student’s work takes into account the following expectations:
• Completion of all assignments including Ministry Reflection Reports and the Ministry Capstone Project.
• Weekly participation in MINGroup interaction, whether online or on campus.
• Attendance and participation in common meal, worship, plenary sessions and group sessions during weekly on campus classes or through the formation retreat.
• Ongoing commitment to and active reflection on one’s Field Education placement.

*If selected, M. Div. students may take Church Renewal and the Practice of Ministry I and II courses in place of Formation 5.

Field Education Placements
M. Div. students are required to complete two units of Field Education. M. A. students must complete one unit of Field Education.

One unit of Field Education is either:
• Summer internship of 30-40 hours/week for 10 weeks = 300-400 hours
• Academic Year internship of 10-14 hours/week for 30 weeks = 300-420 hours

The preferred pattern for M.Div. students is to serve one unit in a community organization and one year in a church setting beginning after one completes Formation 1.

A placement is negotiated between the field education site (Shepherd and staff) and the student, with assistance and approval by the Directors of Contextual Ministries. It is the student’s responsibility to discern her or his interests and the type of placement in which she or he desires to learn and serve.

A listing of approved organizations/agencies and church sites is available through the Office of Contextual Ministries, and contains both voluntary (nonpaying) and compensated positions, some of which qualify for Federal Work Study funds. Each student works on-site at the Field Education site and meets with a mentor (called a Shepherd) regularly for an average of one hour per week.

Community Settings
The advantage of a community site placement is the student’s opportunity to experience in learning/teaching exchanges the diversity of ministry responsibilities within the broader community.

The breadth and depth of human needs to which faithful disciples must respond and from which the gifts and graces of attentive discipleship grow form a necessarily broad perspective for students’ critical theological reflection. Prison ministry, transitional housing ministries, community centers, shelters, hospitals and other community service organizations strengthen the students’ understandings of Christ’s preferential option for the other (marginalized, poor, or unseen) within the Spirit’s transformative work in us all.
Church Settings
The advantage of a church site placement is an in-depth contextual introduction to the real workings of the local church. Involvement in these settings provides students with opportunities to engage in a range of pastoral and specialized ministries that contribute to professional ministry identity and discernment of calling within the invitation to spiritual maturity.

Student Pastorates
Two placement options deserve further specification: student pastor and student associate appointments. These appointments can serve as your contextual ministry site.

A student pastor serves as the sole pastor of a church or charge. A student associate serves in a local church with an appointed or called pastor. A student in either placement position is paired with a shepherd who assists the student with theological reflection, annual learning goals, periodic feedback, and evaluation. For a student pastor the shepherd is ordinarily an ordained minister who is close by. For a student associate the shepherd is ordinarily the senior pastor of the church. Both positions require a Field Education covenant in order to meet the requirements.

Contextual Theology and Immersion Program

In an increasingly polarized cultural milieu, effective religious leaders require opportunities to examine their socio-cultural location and presuppositions amidst those of others within and outside of the church in a religiously pluralistic world. The Contextual Theology & Immersion program is a faculty initiative designed to prepare students for encounter with diverse religious traditions in various cultural settings.

The purpose of this initiative is:

• To develop sensitivity, deepen Christian discipleship, and heighten capacity for sustenance in interreligious and intercultural complexity(ies)

• To provide conceptual, liturgical, and practical introduction to theologies of religious pluralism, scriptural reasoning, and comparative theological deepening of discipleship

• To examine students’ theological integration and preparedness for ministry in culturally and religiously pluralist environments through an international immersion experience, which concludes with a post-experience, critical theological reflection.

After completion of prerequisites – NT521 or OT504 (Introduction to NT or OT), ST502 Introduction to Theology, and PT504/505 - Master of Divinity students are required, and other degree candidates are invited, to register for WR601 Methods for Interreligious and Intercultural Encounter. When registering for WR601, students should also register for WR602 and see the Coordinator of Immersion Trips to select a trip from the approved list. Trips and generally take place during January or in the summer months. Students complete WR601 at least the semester before their desired travel. The methods course is prerequisite to any travel. Upon successful completion of the course, students participate in the Immersion Experience, which, as a rule, takes place outside of the United States and Canada within a cohort of no less than six students. Exceptions are granted only with the approval of the Academic Dean. Spouses and older children are encouraged to participate when possible.

The monies for this program are interwoven into the fee structure of the M.Div. degree program. An Immersion Experience surcharge of $70 per semester hour provides a way for students to accumulate the funds needed for the Immersion Trip. Additional funds might be raised from a student’s congregation or in other ways, should the student choose a trip that exceeds the planned amount. The surcharge funds – both those accumulated and those that will be paid by the time of graduation – are made available at the time the student participates in an Immersion Experience.

These surcharge funds are nonrefundable, except for students officially transferring to another institution or withdrawing from the institution. In such cases, authorization will be needed from the Academic Dean. In addition, a 5% administrative fee will be assessed which will reduce the amount refunded.

The Contextual Theology & Immersion program initiative is a crucial opportunity to encounter other cultures, religious practices, and people of faith outside a student’s previous worldview. The coursework, travel, and concluding reflections are designed to provide critically reflective and sensitively nuanced capacity in United graduates for rooted, Christian discipleship within a religiously and culturally pluralistic world.

Doctor of Ministry (D.Min.)

For religious leaders seeking to strengthen their prophetic and pastoral competence and equip others for ministry and outreach

Purpose

The Doctor of Ministry (D.Min.) program at United Theological Seminary is an advanced professional degree in the practice of ministry based on action research methodology. The program is designed to strengthen the work of ordained clergy in the practice of prophetic and pastoral ministry, lay leaders for ministry in the church, religious educators, and those involved in a variety of community-based ministries. The D.Min. degree is designed to:

- Empower people in ministry by emphasizing learning as a process of action and reflection within the work context
- Embody the principle that the ministry context determines the structure and content of theological reflection and research goals
- Advance the process of mutual inquiry through focus group participation and mentor supervision
• Challenge participants to discover new strengths and insights for ministry

• Prepare participants for new ministries

Curriculum

The D.Min. program is a mentor-based contextual model of education, which requires a combination of self-initiative and collegial action/reflection. The curriculum is intended to develop both individual leadership skills and the ability to support the leadership of others. The two educational goals are achieved through focus group participation and mentor supervision. Individual leadership is achieved through the identification and execution of a research project that is unique to the participant’s ministry context. The importance of mutual inquiry is fostered through the focus group process, where individual students reflect theologically in developing a research project with peers who are also engaged in the same general topic. The curriculum is designed to foster critical theological reflection, to model a form of mutual inquiry that will enhance ministry, and to aid the student in the design and execution of an original research project.

Program Components

The program requires the interweaving of course work, critical reflection on a ministry context, and focus group participation. The educational process makes it possible to develop a high degree of expertise in a particular area of ministry that is rooted in academic inquiry. The goal of the program is for students to test a specialized ministry model that can then be made available for others to use. All semesters foster personal, academic and contextual growth.

The program is 60 credit hours divided into six semesters of ten credits each. Each semester begins with a five-day intensive.

Semesters I – V include Focus Group meetings in addition to the Intensive meeting. In Semester V the student undertakes the research and writing of the thesis project. The Final Exam (project defense) and Thesis Completion are scheduled in Semester VI.

The deadlines for Final Exams in Semester VI are February 15 (Spring term) and September 15 (Fall term).

Semester Process

Each of the six semesters of the program focuses on a particular aspect of the work toward the Doctor of Ministry degree.

Semester I focuses on analysis of the participant and the context with an emphasis on how the two come together to form a thesis for the D.Min. research project.

Semester II provides instruction in Biblical Studies and Church History.
Semesters III focuses on Theology and theoretical reflection on ministry research.

Semester IV centers on The Candidacy Review for continuation to the research project.

Semester V focuses on the design, implementation, and documentation of the research project.

Semester VI focuses on the Final Exam and Thesis Completion for the Doctor of Ministry degree.

Intensives

The Intensives introduce students to current issues that are impacting ministry. Each Intensive is organized around a specific theme that is taught by national leaders. The Intensives also provide the setting for course work in Bible, Theology, and History, for the development of research methodologies, and for focus group consultation. The uniqueness of each Phase requires students to participate in all six semesters; therefore, there can be no admission with advanced standing. The intensives include the following components:

- Worship
- Plenary Sessions focused on the theme of the Intensives
- Focus Group meetings emphasize each semester of the program and the subject matter of the focus group
- Core Course Work concentrates on the required academic curriculum

Focus Groups

The Focus Groups are a crucial part of the D.Min. curriculum and consist of 32 contact hours for Semesters I – V. The Focus Groups provide opportunity for students to work with Faculty Mentors, to participate in collegial peer-to-peer learning, and to receive critical evaluation from a Faculty Consultant.

Participants develop relationships that enable them to be both critical and supportive, challenging and affirming. The process of learning through collegial relationships is meant to assist students in evaluating ministry contexts. The Focus Group is an important evaluation group, whose primary purpose is to provide a context for theological reflection at every Semester of the D.Min. program.

Evaluation

Evaluation of the program is conducted by Faculty Mentors and through the Doctoral Studies Office. The evaluation process consists of:

- Semester Reviews
• Candidacy Review
• Review of the Model of Ministry Project
• Final Examination of Research Project

It is important that participants provide constructive, honest criticism of each other. The Faculty Mentor will ensure that each student receives a review in each semester.

The standard forms used in the evaluation process are the Semester Review, the Candidacy Review Team Evaluation and the Final Examination forms.

Instructors

Faculty Mentors
United Faculty Mentors serve as instructors for each focus group. Faculty Mentors are experienced in various areas of academia. The Faculty Mentor is the most important instructor in assisting students in the development of their semester papers and designing their research projects.

Faculty Consultants
United Faculty Consultants serve as resource persons for each focus group. With the Faculty Mentor(s), Faculty Consultants will assist students in developing the Theological Foundation for the final research project.

Professional Associates
Each student is required to seek the advice of experts in the field.

Degree Conferral

Degrees are normally conferred in May and December.

Special Studies and Non-Degree Programs

For those seeking an introduction to theological education or to enhance their ministry opportunities

Purpose

United Theological Seminary provides a variety of educational offerings to meet a range of needs for theological education.

Courses taken at the masters level for special studies and non-degree programs may be counted for credit toward a degree program, should a student who enrolls in one of these programs apply and be admitted to a United degree program. See the “Change of Degree” section in the "Academic Policies and Procedures" chapter on page 61 for details.
A faculty advisor will be provided as a resource for students who enroll in special studies and non-degree programs for masters level credit, and these credits will be documented on a United transcript.

Courses taken for the 30-hour certificate courses or Continuing Education Units are not eligible for degree credit.

Pre-Doctoral Program

Pre-Doctoral Program Overview

United now has an educational program for students who wish to pursue a Doctor of Ministry degree, but do not have the required Master of Divinity degree. In addition to a Master of Divinity degree, United’s doctoral program presupposes three years of ministry experience.

The Pre-Doctoral program is designed to prepare students for Doctor of Ministry work by augmenting previous Master’s degree coursework with the religious courses that are required to be considered for admission. This program is perfect for students who have completed a Master’s degree in another discipline and seek to expand their ministry by entering the Doctor of Ministry program.

The Pre-Doctoral program offers the courses you need to qualify for what would be comparable to a Master of Divinity degree. Master of Divinity equivalency is defined as 72 graduate semester hours that represent broad-based work in theology, biblical studies and the arts of ministry. A Master’s degree and significant ministerial leadership is also required.

Pre-Doctoral courses are available on-site at our Dayton campus and online via our distance learning program. All courses in the Pre-Doctoral Program must be successfully completed with a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0 before a student may be admitted into the Doctor of Ministry program.

All courses in the Pre-Doctoral Program must be successfully completed with a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0 before a student may be admitted into the Doctor of Ministry program.

Financial Aid

Financial aid for a Pre-Doctoral student is limited to an unsubsidized Direct loan up to $5,500 for the length of the program.

For more information regarding financial aid eligibility, deadlines and private loans please visit the financial aid webpage at www.united.edu.

Scholarships
Scholarship opportunities are available for the Pre-Doctoral program. The Pre-Doctoral scholarship may be applied toward tuition for the core 24 graduate semester hours referred to in the Pre-Doctoral Program Courses section above. Pre-Doctoral scholarship applications must be received by the published deadline and applicants must meet eligibility requirements for scholarships to be considered.

For more information regarding scholarship deadlines and eligibility requirements, please visit the scholarship webpage on www.united.edu or contact the Scholarship Office at scholarships@united.edu.

Admissions Requirements
With the addition of a Master's transcript, admissions requirements for the Pre-Doctoral program are the same as for Master's degrees.

Course of Study School of Ohio

The Course of Study School of Ohio (COSSO) is an educational program established by the Division of Ordained Ministry of the General Board of Higher Education and Ministry, United Methodist Church.

The basic Course of Study (COS) is prescribed by the United Methodist Church for the education of persons serving as licensed Local Pastors. This regional program is supported by the Methodist Theological School in Ohio (MTSO) and United Theological Seminary (United) in Dayton, Ohio. COSSO offers courses on both campuses.

The faculty is made up of well-qualified instructors, including faculty from the two seminaries and from the surrounding community. All are academically qualified, theologically grounded, and persons who care about the best interest of the students and the church.

As prescribed by The Book of Discipline of The United Methodist Church, each part-time licensed local pastor must complete two courses in an annual conference year; full-time licensed local pastors must complete four.

Hybrid COS Program
The Course of Study School of Ohio is the only COS school to offer hybrid classes and these courses are only offered at United Theological Seminary. Hybrid courses consist of one-half of each course being offered online and one-half offered in the traditional weekend on campus.

Online Modules
The online portion of each course is taught in modules. Most modules include an online lecture or video, required readings, and written interaction with other students and the professor.

Face-to-Face Session
Unlike standard COS classes, the hybrid format means you travel to campus for only one weekend. On the weekend, classes will be offered in a Friday/Saturday intensive format.

Transferability
All COSSO Hybrid courses offered at United are transferable to other UMCOS programs.

Advanced Course of Study

For United Methodist Students
Upon approval by the Conference Board of Ordained Ministry, United Methodist local pastors who have completed the Basic Course of Study may meet the educational requirements for conference membership and Elder’s orders by taking an additional 32 semester hours of graduate theological studies.

Coursework must be planned in consultation with a faculty advisor and be in conformity with the Guidelines for Advanced Course of Study published by the General Board of Higher Education and Ministry. Graduates of the Advanced COS at United Theological Seminary participate fully in commencement exercises and receive a graduate Certificate of Theological Studies. Admission to Advanced COS requires a Bachelor’s degree and successful completion of the Basic COS.

Basic Graduate Theological Studies (B.G.T.S.)

A Continuing Education Unit (CEU) is defined as 10 contact hours of participation in an organized continuing education experience offered under responsible sponsorship, capable direction and qualified instruction.

ALLLM provides guidelines for awarding Continuing Education Units. This list and a compilation of events sponsored by United are available through the office of the School for Discipleship and Renewal.

Deaconess and Home Missioner Program
For United Methodist students
Deaconesses (women) and Home Missioners (men) are lay people who have responded to the call of God in their lives and have been commissioned by The United Methodist Church to full-time ministries of love, justice and service. Lifelong Learning: School for Discipleship and Renewal

United’s School for Discipleship and Renewal's programs are for church professionals seeking continuing education and UMC certification courses and for laity interested in lifelong learning and spiritual development.

The School for Discipleship and Renewal's programs complement and enhance the seminary’s masters and doctoral tracks by offering courses, workshops, and special events. These are open to students, clergy and lay ministers, and the community.

The work of the School for Discipleship and Renewal bears witness to the Gospel, grounded in the great ecumenical traditions of the Church, while seeking to be multicultural, intergenerational, and engaged in communication with a digital culture. Through its Centers, the School for Discipleship and Renewal:

• Initiates training opportunities in the practices of ministry
• Supports a variety of programs for continuing education and ongoing spiritual formation for pastors and other church professionals
• Offers seminars, classes, workshops, consultations and worship celebrations in which young and old alike may explore Christian faith and practice in fresh, transformation ways and:

- Seeks to build networks of congregations and ministry contexts committed to excellence in ministry, from equipping lay and clergy for sharing the Gospel in the 21st century, to health, wholeness, and Sabbath-living; to the renewal of congregational worship, urban outreach, and nurturing young persons and those who lead them.

For more information about the School for Discipleship and Renewal’s programs and events, go to www.united.edu and click on Lifelong Learning. For a calendar of current programs and events offered, go to www.united.edu and click on Events.

The Center for Urban Ministry

The Center for Urban Ministry provides urban ministry training for pastors, church professionals and lay persons regardless of formal educational experience. Classes and conferences are offered both on-site at United and through local congregations, general church agencies and community partners. In addition, the center provides consultant services to local churches wanting to assess and renew their outreach to the local community.

In partnership with United’s doctoral program, the Center periodically establishes cohort groups of students whose Doctor of Ministry focus is Urban Ministry.

United offers an Urban Ministry Certification program through the General Board of Higher Education and Ministry, (GBHEM) of the United Methodist Church.

The Center for Worship, Preaching, and the Arts

The Center for Worship, Preaching and the Arts (CWPA) offers continuing education for clergy, as well as students in various forms of Gospel proclamation including preaching, media and digital communication, and the visual liturgical arts. Through workshops and events, the CWPA introduces participants to explorations of lectionary readings, offers experiences which encourage the use of multimedia communication, and encourages the development of clergy networks where pastors learn from and support one another.

The CWPA is often the recipient of Worship Renewal Grants through the Calvin Institute of Christian Worship.

The Kenneth H. Pohly Center for Supervision and Leadership Formation

The Pohly Center extends resources to judicatory leaders, seminaries, pastors, non-profit agencies, students, and lay persons who desire excellence in ministry for the areas of covenantal supervision, leadership development, faith-based conflict management, and effective church organization. The Center provides these resources through seminars, workshops, classroom and online courses. Programs are offered at United and offsite locations structured to meet the needs of various settings and denominations.
The Center offers a certification program in supervision, which emphasizes a five-stage process and framework for supervisory conversations as central to helping leaders reflect on the challenges that arise in their work. It also trains mentors for leading both seminary peer groups and doctoral focus groups. In cooperation with United’s doctoral program, the Center periodically establishes a Doctor of Ministry cohort group which focuses on leadership and covenantal supervision.

Floyd and Elaine Flake Certificate in Music Ministry

The Floyd and Elaine Flake Music Ministry Certificate is a six-course program geared to enhance one’s ability to provide outstanding leadership of music ministry in the twenty-first century Christian church. The cost for the Floyd and Elaine Flake Certificate in Music Ministry is $300 per course, plus meals, housing and course materials.

Harriet L. Miller Women's Center

The Women’s Center works to nurture a theological community of women and men that value and promote women’s leadership.

The Women’s Center is named for Dr. Harriet L. Miller, the first woman faculty member at United. Dr. Miller taught at United from 1956 to 1987. The activities and events of the Women’s Center are designed to provide opportunity for dialogue and encounter, as practiced and promoted by Dr. Miller.

Programs and projects of particular interest to women are periodically offered as collegial partnerships with other areas of the seminary.

The Center, on the second floor of the seminary, is open whenever school is in session.

The Center for Hispanic/Latino Ministry

The Hispanic Christian Academy (HCA), part of United Theological Seminary’s Center for Hispanic/Latino Ministries, is designed to impact the local church by equipping and training Hispanic leaders to serve in clergy and lay-leadership roles in ministry. It is a three-year Course of Ministry program taught online in Spanish. The basic curriculum includes: Bible, Theology, Church and Mission and Ministry.

The Hispanic Christian Academy intends to:

- Educate church leaders in foundational knowledge and practical training for ministry.
- Equip and train leaders in Scriptural preaching, teaching, ministering or counseling.
- Encourage personal spiritual growth of leaders to mature in Christ.
- Train leaders to equip and train others for the service of ministry.
- Encourage leaders to high standards of integrity.
The program consists of 12 online courses offered over a three-year period. Each online course will be 2 credit hours (this equals 2.4 CEUs per course). The duration of each course is an eight week term, with terms offered back to back per semester. Students will receive a Certificate in Theology and Ministry after the 12 courses have been completed.

Seminary for Seniors

The mission of Seminary for Seniors is to provide opportunities for further learning for adults 50 years and older. Courses focus on issues related to the intersection of faith and culture and are designed to stimulate students intellectually while building fruitful relationships.

Each course is in session for a four-week term, and is taught by facilitators with significant experience in their course’s subject matter. Thematic concentrations include theology, cultural studies, literature and the arts, religious studies, science and philosophy.

Students do not receive academic credit for completing courses, but are intellectually enriched through participation in class discussions and reading assignments. During the four-week term, each course will meet once a week for one to two hours.

The term registration fee allows participants to attend any or all courses taught during that term. Courses are held in local churches in multiple cities and states. More information can be found under the Lifelong Learning menu at www.united.edu.

Admissions

Admissions Standards
Application Process
Requirements

Introduction

United Theological Seminary seeks students who wish to deepen their personal and communal faith in Jesus Christ, experience and reflect on relevant issues facing today’s Church and develop competency in the practice of ministry.

Although each degree program is designed with unique objectives in mind, all degree programs prepare graduates for effective leadership in the Church and society.

Prospective students are asked to submit an application with the necessary supporting documentation that attests to an adequate academic record, an obvious awareness of God’s call in their lives and the affirming witness of the gathered community.
Campus Visitation

United invites prospective masters students to schedule campus visits, preferably when classes are in session.

Visiting on a Wednesday during the fall or spring semester enables participation in community worship. Prospective students may attend a class of interest, meet current students and faculty, tour the campus and meet with admissions staff.

Visiting on a Thursday enables participation in community lunch and classes (with professor permission).

In addition, United often sponsors special ministry events to assist prospective masters students in discerning their call into ministry. Participation in these activities offers prospective students another means to learn about theological education at United. Visit www.united.edu for dates, event description, and registration.

Persons planning to visit the campus on specifically designated dates or at other times should contact the Admissions Office two weeks in advance.

Advanced Standing

Shared Credit may be granted to students who request it on the basis of previous graduate level work completed for a degree at other accredited institutions.

Transfer Credit may be granted for credit earned at other schools accredited by the Association of Theological Schools, if that credit has not yet been applied toward a degree, provided that the courses taken correspond to elements of United’s curriculum.

In some instances, advanced standing will be granted for prior academic work. The Academic Dean's Office has sole responsibility for granting advanced standing. In some cases, United has formal agreements with other institutions, and in those cases the stipulations of the agreement will determine what, if any, advanced standing a student may receive, contingent upon the approval of the Academic Dean's office. In cases in which no formal agreement exists, the Academic Dean's office may grant advanced standing after reviewing the student’s formal transcripts.

Applicants seeking advanced standing should submit their request in writing to the Admissions Department.

Once all official transcripts are received, the Admissions Officer will prepare an Evaluation of Advanced Standing. The Academic Dean's office will review this evaluation and sign it as being officially acceptable. The student is then notified of the results of the transcript evaluation. United will evaluate for advanced standing coursework completed within the preceding ten years.

United Methodist local pastors enrolled in the Course of Study program may be granted ten (10) semester hours of credit for a completed Course of Study or two (2) semester hours of credit for each year of completed coursework.

Tuition and Fees

United strives to make theological education affordable

Introduction

United Theological Seminary strives to make theological education affordable through reasonable tuition costs, contextual education placements and a financial aid and scholarship program. The Board of Trustees approves tuition rate changes on an annual basis. The current tuition and fees can be found on the seminary’s website at www.united.edu

Payment Policy for All Students

All tuition and fees must be paid prior to registration deadlines (see page 58). Any outstanding charges from the previous semester will delay course registration until such charges are met. Failure to pay tuition in a timely manner may result in loss of academic credit for that semester.

Students anticipating graduation must pay in full all financial obligations to the school at least 14 days prior to the date of commencement. Students who do not meet these financial obligations may not participate in the graduation ceremony and will not receive a diploma until all obligations to the school are fulfilled.

United permits payment by cash, check, Visa, MasterCard, Discover, or online at www.united.edu. All payments are to be made directly to the Business Office. Inquiries regarding payment and payment options should be directed to the Business Office.

Deferred Payment Plans for Full-time Students

Full-time masters and doctoral students may arrange to pay tuition and fees for the Fall or Spring Semesters on a deferred basis, subject to the following provisions:

It is the student’s responsibility to see that all payments reach the Business Office on or before the payment deadlines or agreed-upon dates, whether or not a bill has been received.

Students may pay their tuition for a semester in four monthly installments. The first payment is due at the time of enrollment. See the Business Office for details.

Charges incurred during the semester are due in full upon receipt of written notice from the Business Office and are payable in addition to any deferred payment obligations.
Delinquent Accounts

Students whose financial obligations are not paid in full are not eligible to register for the next semester or to receive transcripts, grades, enrollment verification or degrees. Financial obligations include tuition, fees, housing, library fines, and all other items billed by the seminary.

Financial Aid

A financial aid package may include eligibility for Scholarships, Federal Work-Study, and Loans

Introduction

The Financial Aid Department works with students to determine and access resources available to support their theological education. Finances are handled with a view toward fiscal responsibility, integrity, accountability, and thoughtful planning. Financial assistance is available through both the seminary and outside sources. United attempts to present a comprehensive financial aid package which may include eligibility for scholarships, federal work-study, and loans. For a complete listing of financial aid principles and procedures, contact the Financial Aid Department, financialaid@united.edu.

Eligibility

Students must be enrolled for a minimum of 6 credit hours in one of United’s Masters, Pre-Doctoral, or Doctor of Ministry degree programs to be eligible for financial aid. Financial aid includes loans and federal work-study.

In order to be eligible for United's scholarships, a student must be enrolled for a minimum of 9 credit hours. Once awarded a scholarship, if at any time during the semester enrollment for a student falls below the nine (9) credit hours required the scholarship will be revoked. Eligible students may use veteran’s benefits to cover education cost.

Financial aid at United is based on demonstrated financial need as determined by the school according to federal guidelines. Financial need is defined as the difference between cost of attendance and the student’s total financial resources including expected family contribution (EFC), scholarships, grants, work-study, and veteran’s benefits.

Application Process and Deadlines

Students must submit a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) each academic year to be eligible for financial aid. The application can be completed online at www.fafsa.ed.gov. United Theological Seminary’s school code is G03122. If you do not have a four-digit pin number from previous years please request a PIN number at www.pin.ed.gov before you begin the process.

Students must also complete a United financial aid application that can be found on the student portal. United Methodist Student's loan applications may be obtained from your conference office.

Scholarship applications are available through the applicant and student portals. For further information contact the Scholarships Office.

Students can contact their conference offices for conference applications.

Deadlines for entering students:

July 1: Entering in Fall Semester

December 1: Entering in Spring Semester

Deadline for continuing students:

May 1: All information, paperwork, and forms must be submitted to Financial Aid by May 1 in order to receive financial aid for the coming year.

Note the scholarship deadline for returning students is March 1 for the academic year.

Receipt of financial aid one year does not guarantee receipt of financial aid in subsequent years.

Fall Semester $300 late fee will be assessed after July 31.

Spring Semester $300 late fee will be assessed after December 31.

The registration is late and will incur late fees on the following schedule for Doctoral Students:

Fall Semester: Monday of the August Intensive

Spring Semester: Monday of the January Intensive

Loans

Financial aid in the form of federal loans requires that a student be accepted and enrolled in one of United's Masters, Pre-Doctoral, or Doctoral degree programs. Enrollment must be at least half-time (six credit hours in each semester, Fall and Spring). The student must:

- Be a U.S. citizen or permanent resident
- Complete all financial aid application requirements
- Have demonstrated financial need as determined by federal guidelines
- Maintain satisfactory academic progress as determined by academic course load and grades

The Direct Loan Program offers graduate students unsubsidized loans only. Unsubsidized loans do not require students to demonstrate need. Repayment for all loans begins six (6) months after the last date of enrollment or if the student drops below 6 credit hours. Students should contact the Financial Aid Office for further information.

A Master Promissory Note (MPN) and entrance counseling must be completed when using federal loans. The MPN and entrance counseling can be completed online at www.studentloans.gov.

Graduate Plus loans will not be available to students who started in the Masters Degree after July 1, 2014.

Students that are close to their aggregate loan limit may be required to participate in financial aid literacy counseling.

Denominational Assistance

For many major denominations, including The United Methodist Church, there are grants, scholarships and loan assistance. Students are encouraged to consult their denominational offices early in the year for policies, procedures, and the denomination’s application process.

Employment Opportunities

Students wishing to work on campus or off campus who are eligible for need-based financial aid may be employed through the Federal Work-Study program. Students work 10-20 hours per week. Some contextual education placements can be funded through the work-study program.

In addition, churches frequently contact United requesting students for staff positions. M.Div. students may complete Contextual Education credit requirements for the second year through this program.

A full-time academic load requires 36-45 hours per week in class and study. Additional time spent in employment or other activities should be understood as over and above an already full week.

Caution must be exercised in accepting on-campus and off-campus employment that may place excessive time demands on full-time students.

Scholarships

In addition to loans available through Financial Aid, United Theological Seminary provides opportunities for scholarships.

These scholarships are funded largely through endowed scholarships and the annual fund supported by United alumni/ae and friends. For more information visit scholarships.united.edu or email scholarships@united.edu.

To be eligible for scholarships:

- Students must be enrolled in one of United’s masters or doctoral degree programs, or the Pre-Doctoral program or Basic Graduate Theological Studies program.

- Students must be enrolled in full-time studies of at least nine (9) hours per semester.
- Entering students must have at least a 2.5 cumulative GPA in their undergraduate degree and/or previous graduate studies.
- Continuing students must maintain a cumulative GPA of 2.5.

Some scholarships give preference to students with outstanding academic records.

Application Process

Submit the scholarship application with all requested documents through the United Applicant Portal by the deadline. Students will receive award notification by the scholarship selection committee. The deadline for returning students is March 1 for the academic year. Deadlines for new students are July 1 for the fall semester and December 1 for the Spring semester. For more information visit scholarships.united.edu.

Awards

Scholarship awards vary in amounts. Full financial packages may be a combination of scholarships, work-study opportunities, and federal loans. The scholarship award is usually for one (1) academic year and returning students must apply each year.

This policy is effective for new students enrolling after the spring 2014 semester: Acceptance of any institutional awards (scholarships, tuition waivers, or tuition discounts) will cause federal student loans award to be decreased by an amount equal to the scholarship award accepted. Whenever possible the federal student loan would be adjusted prior to the issuance of the financial aid award letter. In cases where the student declines the institutional scholarship award the loan amount will be adjusted accordingly.

The reduction of the loan process is to ensure there is not an over payment in excess of the cost of attendance; as well as assist with the reduction of loan debt upon graduating or leaving the seminary.

Academic Policies and Procedures for Masters Degrees

Introduction

Upon acceptance, all students agree to abide by the school’s policies and regulations. For more descriptive information about United’s policies and regulations, consult the Student Handbook. The school reserves the right to change or revise the information in this catalog regarding tuition, fees, courses and conditions for admission. Any changes will be communicated to students as promptly as possible.
Inclusive Language

United Theological Seminary is committed to equality for women and men of every racial and ethnic background.

The seminary urges students, faculty and staff to use language which exemplifies respect, dignity and equality in conversations with seminary colleagues, in public discourse, in classroom discussions and in writings. Guidelines are included in the Student Handbook.

Academic Integrity

In a seminary community, academic integrity is integral to formation of Christian character. Academic integrity is characterized by mutual respect, honest inquiry, and honesty in the discovery and dissemination of knowledge, including academic instruction, evaluation, study, research, writing, preaching and all communications related to worship and learning in this community.

Dishonesty in academic work is a serious violation of scholarship and community, just as stealing another person’s property is illegal and harmful to persons. The seminary community, including students, is expected to accept, embrace and live in harmony with the concept of academic integrity. This includes fair and impartial evaluations on the part of faculty and honest conduct on the part of students.

The purpose of an academic integrity policy is to clarify and codify the rights and responsibilities inherent in the faculty/student relationship of this community.

A complete copy of the academic integrity policy and procedures, which applies to all degree and non-degree students of United Theological Seminary, is printed in the Student Handbook.

Academic Schedule

The school year consists of two semesters – Fall Semester (August–December) and Spring Semester (January–June)

Classes are offered at a variety of times during the day, evenings, and weekends and in a variety of schedule formats from intensive to traditional, ranging from one week to 12 weeks.

Evening Courses

Students who are unable to attend daytime classes may attend evening and weekend classes. Evening classes begin at 4:30 p.m. and 6:30 p.m., Monday through Thursday.

Courses are offered in three modalities which are designated in the course number: t = traditional residential format, o = online format, h = hybrid format (contact hours are a mixture of face-to-face and online).

An evening Ministry Formation group is provided when a sufficient number of students are enrolled in the evening program.
Make-up Days Due to Campus Closings

In the event that classes are cancelled due to inclement weather, power outages or other unforeseen circumstances, make-up days are set aside on the academic calendar. Students should hold these days open in the event that classes will be held during these times. It is, however, at the instructor’s discretion to propose other alternative make-up days with the agreement of the class.

Faculty Advisors

Upon admission to United, each student is assigned a faculty advisor who assists with the development of an appropriate program of study.

Although every effort is made by the faculty and academic staff to assist students in planning to meet all requirements within their degree program, the student is fully responsible for meeting the requirements and deadlines specified in the degree program.

The catalog, Student Handbook, and official academic notices serve to inform students of academic requirements and policies.

Registration

Registration is held during a two-week period in the Spring for Fall Semester courses and during a two-week period in the Fall for Spring Semester courses. Dates for both are announced via email, the student portal, and on the website. Beginning degree students work with the Associate Director of Student Success and Retention to register once they have returned their Letter of Intent to the Admissions Office following admission to a degree program.

In order to register for any semester, the necessary financial arrangements must be made in advance. Previous account balances must be paid in full before registration will be permitted.

Registration is not complete until tuition is paid or until payment of the first installment for full-time students (those taking nine or more semester hours of credit). Student recipients of Stafford Loans are not eligible to pay tuition in installments because of federal guidelines. Payment by VISA, MasterCard, or Discover is an option.

The cross-registration agreement excludes all online courses except through Payne Theological Seminary, Lindsey Wilson College, Northeastern Seminary, Southwestern College, Fuller Theological Seminary and Winebrenner Theological Seminary.

Schedule Changes and Refunds

Schedule changes must be authorized by faculty advisors on forms available in the Registrar’s Office, at the receptionist’s desk, or on the website in the Registrar section under Admissions/Student Info.

In Fall and Spring Semesters classes may be added before the semester begins. Classes may also be added through the first week of the semester provided they have not met more than once.
Withdrawal from a course which reduces the number of hours taken will be refunded on the schedule announced in the registration packets.

Waivers

Students who wish to substitute another course for an area requirement listed in the catalog shall submit a written rationale to the area faculty. Forms are available in the Registrar’s Office, at the receptionist’s desk, or on the website in the Registrar section under Admissions/Student Info.

Upon receiving written permission from the area faculty, the student must also secure signatures from his or her advisor and the Academic Dean and submit the form to the Registrar.

Directed Study

Students may negotiate with full-time faculty to take a Directed Study. A Directed Study will not be approved for introductory work and will not ordinarily be provided for courses listed in the catalog that are already scheduled. No more than one Directed Study may be taken in a term.

Approval must be secured from the student’s advisor and the Academic Dean for masters level students or the Associate Dean of Doctoral Studies for doctoral students. Authorization forms are available in the Registrar’s Office or on the website in the Registrar section under Admissions/Student Info.

A Directed Study taught by an adjunct instructor is subject to a surcharge.

Auditing Courses

For Degree Students

Students enrolled in masters degree programs may audit courses subject to the approval of their advisor and the instructor of the course and payment of the audit fee. Audits can be changed to credit registration prior to the beginning of the course. Credit courses may be changed to audit on the same tuition refund basis as withdrawal from a course. All audits will appear on the transcript.

Spouses of degree students may audit one course per semester without charge subject to the permission of the instructor. No transcript record is maintained and no academic credit is given.

Alumni/ae may audit courses subject to the permission of the instructor and the Registrar and upon payment of the audit fee. All audits will appear on the transcript.

For Non-Degree Students

Qualified persons who are not in degree programs may audit courses upon admission to the seminary in the Non-Degree Graduate status category and subject to the permission of the instructor. A Non-Degree Graduate application must be submitted to the Admissions Office. A bachelor's degree or higher is required to apply for admission as a Non-Degree Graduate.

As an auditor, the student must fulfill the requirements stated for auditors; these may include required readings, class attendance and other appropriate forms of participation. Auditors will not be required to submit written work for evaluation nor to take examinations.

Auditors will be listed as such on class lists and grade sheets.

Audited classes will appear on transcripts. Audited courses cannot later be changed from audit to credit.

Procedures for Auditors

All audit requests will be processed through the Office of Admissions and the Registrar. Auditors are required to apply for admission in the Special Student classification before enrollment in classes to be audited. The Office of Admissions will handle the admission process. The Registrar will receive the student’s file upon being admitted and will proceed with processing the audit request. The Registrar will maintain the transcript record.

Visiting Student Policy

Persons who do not seek admission into a degree program may enroll as visitors, space permitting, in courses identified by the instructor as being open to this option. The Visiting Student must enroll for the course through the School for Discipleship and Renewal. Registrations are accepted only during the two weeks preceding the desired course module.

The Visiting Student must fulfill course syllabus requirements, which may include required readings, class attendance and other appropriate forms of participation. Visitors will not be required to submit written work for evaluation nor to take examinations. A list of visitors enrolled in the class will be provided to the instructor before the class begins.

Language Studies

There are no language requirements for masters level programs. Students are encouraged, however, to study Hebrew and Greek to enhance their work in biblical studies.

Grading System

Incompletes

The contracting of an Incomplete grade will be determined between the student and the instructor before the final day of the course. If an instructor permits a student to take an incomplete for the course, the instructor will submit an “I” grade on the Grade Entry Sheet. No request form will be needed.

The Registrar will record the “I” grade from the Grade Entry Sheet. Three weeks following the end of the term in which the “I” grade was submitted, the Registrar will notify both the student and the instructor that the grade needs to be converted.

A month following the end of the term in which the “I” grade was submitted, the Registrar will automatically change the “I” to “F” unless the instructor has submitted a conversion grade or an extension agreement.

The student may request an extension of the one-month time period from the instructor. If granted, the instructor is to notify the Registrar of the extension, providing the agreed upon due date for the work.

Following this time, if the instructor wishes to change the grade, s/he must submit a Grade Change form to the Registrar’s office.

A student that is placed on academic probation will be notified by letter from the Academic Dean’s office.

A student on academic probation will not be allowed to take more than nine credit hours per semester until the GPA is 2.0 or better.

The completion of a written academic plan will be required for a student to continue studies under academic probation and before the student can register for the next semester. The plan must detail the steps/methods in which a student will work to raise his/her GPA to satisfactory. The academic plan must be created & signed by the student and his/her advisor then turned into the Academic Dean’s Office. A signed copy of the academic plan must be sent to the Registrar's office to be filed in the student’s permanent record.

The student will need to contact financial aid to discuss his/her eligibility for financial aid funds while on academic probation.

The full-time student’s cumulative GPA will be calculated at the end of two semesters. If the student’s GPA has not risen to a 2.0 or above, the student will be dismissed.

Part-time student’s cumulative GPA will be calculated after completion of 18 credit hours.

A student dismissed due to academic probationary guidelines not being met are able to apply for readmission after one full year.

Appeal Process for Academic Probation

Students that are notified by letter of unsatisfactory academic progress (below 2.0) have the right to appeal this decision through the Academic Dean’s Office. This appeal must be submitted in writing for review by the Academic Dean. The letter must detail the following: 1) Why the student failed to make satisfactory progress and 2) What special extenuating circumstances exist (i.e. death of a relative, injury, major illness, etc.). Students who appeal must do so prior to the beginning of the next academic semester to ensure proper handling of the student’s record.

Once the appeal has been reviewed, the decision of the Dean is final. Students will be notified of this decision in writing within 30 days of receipt of the appeal letter.

Academic-based Dismissal

1. If the student’s GPA has not risen to a 2.0 or above, the student will be dismissed.

2. The student will be informed by receipt of a letter from the Academic Office.

This appeal must be submitted in writing for review by the Academic Dean. The letter must detail the following: 1) Why the student failed to make satisfactory progress and 2) What special extenuating circumstances exist (i.e. death of a relative, injury, major illness, etc.). Students who appeal must do so prior to the beginning of the next academic semester to ensure proper handling of the student’s record.

Once the appeal has been reviewed, the decision of the Dean is final. Students will be notified of this decision in writing within 30 days of receipt of the appeal letter.

Academic Transcripts

On receipt of a release signed by the student, official transcripts will be issued provided the financial obligations to the seminary have been paid in full. There is no charge to current students for this service.

Change of Degree

A student who wishes to change from one degree program to another or to add a degree must submit a “Change of Degree” status request in order to be admitted into the new degree program. These forms are obtained from the Admissions Office.

Withdrawal from Seminary

Any student wishing to withdraw from seminary prior to the completion of a degree program must submit the “Intent to Withdraw” form. This form is available from the Admissions Office.

Students are expected to consult with faculty advisors prior to formalizing this process. Additional interviews may include Contextual Education and Financial Aid.

Unofficial Withdraw

Due to new regulations and a new definition of what defines an "F" failing grade, the US Department of Education has required Institutions of Higher Education to adopt a new grade which reflects such issues as a student who has begun a course of study but never completes the course during the registered term (i.e., they stop attending, turning in work, or discontinue any educationally related activity/contact with the course/instructor. United has adopted a "UW (Unofficial Withdraw) as this grade. If a student does not complete the term they cannot arbitrarily be assigned an "F" grade. They must be given a "UW" on all official grading platforms.

Name Corrections and Changes
Students and graduates who wish to correct misspelled names or to change their names on official records are required to present sufficient identification (e.g. driver’s license, marriage license, court order or other official identification), along with a written request, to the Registrar’s Office.

The graduation fee and all financial obligations to the seminary must be paid no later than eight days before graduation.

Resources for Theological Education

O’Brien Library

Print and digital resources are valuable to the theological enterprise.

The library’s online catalog, located at library.united.edu/default.asp provides easy access for searching the collection.

United Theological Seminary Archives

The Seminary Archives consists of more than 400 linear feet of administrative papers, Seminary publications, photographs, audio and audio-visual recordings, faculty publications and papers, and artifacts documenting the history of United Theological Seminary. Many of these historical materials are made available for research purposes upon request by contacting the Director of the Library at 937.529.2201 x 3400 for assistance. Requested materials will be brought to the Dr. James D. Nelson Research and Exhibit Room for use by patrons. This room is open to the public 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday – Friday each week that the library is open.

Print and Media Collections

The library contains more than 150,000 books, periodicals, audio and visual materials, micro-forms, computer software, and other materials. More than 500 periodical titles are received and indexed through the ATLA Religion Database (abstracts only).

The library’s circulating collection of books consists of more than 120,000 volumes maintained in open stacks.

In addition, the library maintains limited circulating collections for reserve books, media, and the denominational collection relating to the former Evangelical United Brethren Church. Collections restricted to library use include the reference and periodical collections, microforms, rare books and archives.

Special collections include the Edmond S. Lorenz Collection of early American hymn and songbooks, the J. Allan Ranck Collection of the Friendship Press, the Union Biblical Seminary Collection and the Waldensian-Methodist Collection.

Together these collections support study and research in Biblical studies, theology, church history, practical ministry and the curriculum of United’s degree programs.

Electronic Resources

Patrons can access bibliographic tools and resources in the library including the ATLA Religion Database (abstracts only), Old Testament Abstracts, New Testament Abstracts, the Bible and other teaching/learning media and educational resources.

Assistance with searching non-local library resources, educational resources, Online Computer Library Consortium’s First Search, and WorldCat is available from the reference staff.

Library Services and Facilities

The professional library staff provides reference service and online searching assistance. Resources not held by the library can usually be obtained for current students, faculty and staff through the interlibrary loan service.

A photocopier and a microform reader printer are available at a minimal charge. Two study rooms are available to individuals and groups for quiet study.

Services to students enrolled in United Theological Seminary programs beyond Trotwood are provided by libraries on-site and through interlibrary loan. Students at these sites may communicate with the library by fax and by email to request materials, reference services and bibliographic assistance.

Resource Sharing

United’s library participates in regional and international resource sharing arrangements that make its collections known and available through the Online Computer Library Center (OCLC).

Its memberships and participation in the American Theological Library Association (ATLA), the Ohio Theological Library Association (OTLA), and the Southwestern Ohio Council for Higher Education (SOCHE) reflect its long-standing commitment to library resource sharing.

United students have access to borrowing privileges at the Dayton and Montgomery County Public Library system and the sixteen colleges and university libraries of SOCHE when presenting a valid student ID card.

Center for Evangelical United Brethren Heritage

The Center for EUB Heritage encourages the study of the religious and ecclesiastical traditions that formed the Evangelical United Brethren Church and promotes appreciation for and use of that heritage within the United Methodist tradition and in the Church at large.

To this end the center has carried on extensive oral history projects; it has gathered people for consultations and special observances; it produces publications and exhibits; and it holds an extensive collection of manuscripts, artifacts, and publications directly related to that denomination and its forebears, the Church of the United Brethren in Christ and the Evangelical Church.

The center awards a cash prize for the best paper submitted on some aspect of Evangelical United Brethren Church history, theology or church life.

This annual competition is open to students enrolled in accredited institutions of higher education. The awards are in memory of Audrie E. Reber, former missionary, author and active churchwoman who was a founding member of the center and a member of its advisory board. Award application information is available from the center.

The Telescope-Messenger, an eight-page newsletter, is published by the center twice each year and is sent to the membership of the center as well as to a reading public of about 2,000 interested persons.

Digital Media Center

The Digital Media Center houses the seminary’s video production facilities. This state-of-the-art center is used for class projects, student training events, and seminary related productions.

Classes in video production skills are fully supported by the Digital Media Center. The center also maintains an inventory of portable production equipment for student use related to class work.

Information Technology Resources

Technology has become an essential part of ministry; and United expects students to be familiar with using a Windows-based or Mac computer for word processing, browsing the web, and sending and receiving email.

An email account in the united.edu system has been provided to each degree seeking student as well as a United network account (secure access on campus). All email communications from the seminary will be sent to the students’ united.edu email accounts. The united.edu email accounts are web accessible and students may check their email from any Internet enabled computer. It is provided by Google (gmail) and has all of the features normally provided by any gmail account, except it will have the (username@united.edu) united.edu extension. Email accounts other than those provided by United are not supported, but students may forward united.edu mail to outside accounts. Each student is expected to check her or his united.edu email account at least once per day.

The student account username and password for logging onto email and on campus computers will be sent to the students personal email account at the end of the admissions process. This is the permanent account username and password provided to each degree seeking student. Upon receiving the credentials the student will be able to access the Online Orientation and online courses once they are open each term. They open at 8:30 am on the morning of the first day of the term.

Access to copy student work at United is available to each degree seeking student through the provided copier code. This code enables the student to use the high-speed copiers located in the Library Circulation Office and in the Student Center Computer Lab. Copier use will be charged against these codes at the prevailing rate (see the notice posted at each location for the current rate). The copier in the Student Center Computer Lab also serves as the printer for those computers. The instructions are posted explaining how to log onto the computers in the lab and use the copier for printing. These instructions are available in the Student Center or can be provided by the Information Technology Department.

Live internet streaming is provided for many of our programs through livestream.com, which gives students the ability to watch or review the major events at United at a later time. Events are archived on our Livestream channel, www.livestream.com/unitedts.

The multimedia classroom provides faculty, staff, and students access to advanced Windows and Mac-based software for presentation development, image scanning and editing, digital audio and video editing, and website creation for classes or ministry settings. This classroom is not a computer lab. The student computer lab is located upstairs in the Student Center. Students who need access to this classroom must obtain permission from the Academic Dean.

Online Learning Resources

All courses at United have one or more online components accessible on the United Online site, which can be accessed via the United Online link at the bottom of www.united.edu. In-classroom courses do not require the need of the Internet, but the Internet may provide some helpful resources.

Online courses start at 8:30 a.m. on the first day of the term.

United Online uses the Moodle course management system. At the beginning of each semester, the United Online Administrator assigns user accounts to all new students. Account information remains the same for returning students. Training for United Online, research tools, and other technology used by online and face-to-face students is available online and is part of the required Online Student Orientation.

Students may request one-on-one training sessions (over the phone or in-person) and technical support by contacting the United Online Administrator at Onlinehelp@united.edu or call the Distance Learning Office at 937.529.2264.

Student Computer Lab

Students are encouraged to have their own computers, as they will be integral to their ministries and will aid in the preparation of papers and media projects.

The Student Computer Lab provides access to Windows-based computers with word processing, spreadsheet, database, and presentation applications.

Internet access is provided through these computers for research and email. Wireless Access Points (WAP's) are located throughout the building to provide Internet access for student-owned computers.

Lectureships

Heck Lectures: The J. Arthur Heck Lectures were established by the Alumni/ae Association to honor the life and work of Dr. J. Arthur Heck, former President and Professor of Systematic Theology at United.

The Heck Lectures are intended to relate the world of research to the practice of ministry. They are delivered each fall in conjunction with the gathering of United graduates from around the country.

Ryterband Symposium: The Ryterband Symposium (formerly known as the Sanders Symposium) is a joint venture of United Theological Seminary, The University of Dayton, and Wright State University.

It is made possible by a generous contribution from Dr. and Mrs. Louis Ryterband and Mrs. Natalie Roth.

The purpose of the annual fall symposium is to promote better understanding between major religious groups in the Greater Dayton Area.

Light the Fire: Light the Fire is an annual church renewal conference hosted by United Theological Seminary. Each year, the conference focuses on a theme related to church renewal. The conference is held in the spring.

Clinical Pastoral Education

Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE) is a long-standing partner in theological education. We encourage it in the M.Div. concentration in Care Giving degree program.

CPE is most often offered in a hospital or other institutional setting. In the basic unit of CPE, students gain 400 hours of intensive experience in chaplaincy and supervised theological reflection on the practice of ministry.
Students may register for five (5) semester hours of course credit at United for the basic unit of CPE that is taken while enrolled at United. Students also may take CPE without course credit, by paying a fee directly to a CPE training program.

Accredited training programs in CPE are available throughout North America and in most regions in which students reside. Application materials and more detailed instructions are available on United’s website.

CPE Application
United’s CPE application materials can be found on the website under Masters Degree Programs. Go to united.edu and click on Future Students. On the left click Masters Degree Programs.

The American Association for Clinical Pastoral Education
www.acpe.edu

The College of Pastoral Supervision and Psychotherapy
www.cpsp.org

Dayton area CPE training programs are available at Kettering Medical Center’s hospitals and nursing care facility and the VA Medical Center’s hospitals and clinics.

Programs are also available throughout Ohio and the tri-state region. ACPE and CPSP websites have directories of training programs available throughout North America and in many international locations.

Chaplains and Pastoral Counselors
Students who are considering the vocation of chaplain and/or pastoral counselor should be advised that the minimum requirements for a chaplain in most mainline denominations are the Master of Divinity degree and ordination to sacramental ministry.

For those who cannot or choose not to be ordained, the M.Div. is still highly recommended. For those who choose the M.A. degree, an additional 12 hours will be required in order to gain certification. Those who wish to become pastoral counselors are advised to complete the M.Div. and at least the basic unit of CPE. Additional training and supervision will be required for each of these professions beyond the M.Div. and M.A. degrees.

For more information about membership and credentials, please consult these websites:

American Association of Pastoral Counselors
www.aapc.org

Association of Professional Chaplains
www.professionalchaplains.org

Miami Valley District of the West Ohio Conference UMC
The Miami Valley District of the West Ohio Conference UMC offices are located on the United campus. The offices are open Monday through Friday from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.
National Capital Semester for Seminarians (NCSS)

United students are invited to participate in a full semester of study at Wesley Theological Seminary in Washington, DC.

This program offers students the opportunity to study the relationship between religion and public policy, to visit government offices and attend seminars led by nationally recognized ethicists, theologians and political leaders.

Tuition to United and fees to the National Capital Semester are paid by the student.

Additional information is available in the Academic Dean’s Office or at the National Capital Semester website (www.wesleyseminary.edu/academics/ID.15/detail.asp).

Wesley’s Chapel Internship

In this program, students experience the British Methodist Church, become familiar with the birthplace of Methodism and explore traditional worship in the midst of Wesley’s Chapel’s multicultural inner-city congregation. Ministerial supervision for academic credit is negotiable.

As an unpaid internship, costs to the student would include housing, meals and transportation. Additional information is available in the Office of the Academic Dean at United. For more information about Wesley’s Chapel, see their website at www.wesleyschapel.org.uk/.

Campus Community Life
"May the God of peace himself sanctify you entirely; and may your spirit and soul and body be kept sound and blameless at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. The one who calls you is faithful, and he will do this." (1 Thessalonians 5:23-24 NRSV)

The United community is called to work alongside God’s grace to help students respond to the call God has placed on our lives: spirit, soul, and body.

At United we strive to order our curriculum and common life to help students become more fully who they are called to be. Faculty, students and staff participate in worship, Ministry Formation Groups, retreats, and meetings for Bible study, prayer, and mutual support. By participating in the United community you will be challenged to know God better and to service God more faithfully. Our hope is that because of United, your mind and heart will more intensely reflect the love of Christ, your spirit will be more attuned to the Holy Spirit, and your body will be more engaged in service among the vulnerable in the world God created.

Worship

Community worship on campus and in United Online is as rich as the diverse backgrounds, experiences, gifts, and spiritual expressions of the students, faculty, administrators, staff, and guests who share by planning, and participating in the events of worship.

All members of the United community are encouraged to meet on Wednesday mornings, Monday evenings, or intensives for worship. Leadership at chapel services is provided by faculty, staff, students and guest preachers.

Special Advent and Lenten services, along with other liturgical celebrations, feature liturgists and musicians from a variety of cultures.

Common Meal

Worship on campus is preceded by a common meal and community time when announcements and introductions are offered, and conversations take place among all those who have gathered. Common Meal symbolizes and reflects the ways in which members of the Christian community commit to care for one another in all aspects of life.

Common Meal is scheduled at lunchtime on Wednesdays and dinnertime on Monday evenings during the Fall and Spring semesters. West Virginia students have a Friday evening meal and Saturday lunch.

All on-campus students in Formation courses are required to attend Common Meals. Distance students are required to attend Common Meals during the Formation retreat only. Special community meals may be planned at other times of the year.

Events and Activities

A variety of community events are offered each semester. Celebrations of the opening and closing of the academic year, as well as seasonal worship, parties and summer picnics, are planned for the entire community.
All members of the United community and their families are welcome at these events. These activities, both organized and spontaneous, help build relationships beyond the classroom.

Community and Social Networks

Students are invited to join together on Facebook, Twitter and The HUB Community to continue to build and engage in a sense of community within United.

Student led organizations include:

Young Adult Seminarians Network: A local group of a national network of United Methodist seminarians aged 35 and under. YASN is also open to those individuals over 35 who are concerned with issues of their younger counterparts.

Sacristans: A liturgical ministry group led by students who prepare the worship spaces for seminary worship celebrations. Fabrics and accessories are incorporated – as appropriate – to enhance the worship experiences or to illustrate a worship theme or sermon topic. Sacristans also furnish the elements and dress the Communion table.

Student Council

United Theological Seminary fulfills its mission through the efforts of the faculty, staff and students. Each body contributes significantly to the life of the seminary and conducts its work through various committees and organizing principles.

The Student Council helps to organize special events and represents student concerns throughout the institution and through online environments. Student leadership is elected annually. In addition, Student Council members serve on standing committees, task forces, and Board of Trustees.

Student Center

The Student Center is located at the south end of the United facility on the second floor and is accessible by stairs or elevator. The center is available to all students for study, recreation, fellowship, prayer or relaxation. The Center includes a large table for meetings or study, prayer room, Women's Center, student computer lab, Student Council office, restrooms, and a kitchen. The kitchen - stocked and cleaned by the students who use it - contains a refrigerator, toaster, microwave oven, and sink.

Order of Saint Luke

The Order of St. Luke is a dispersed community of men and women from many denominations who seek to live the sacramental life and to work together to promote liturgical scholarship, education and practice.

A chapter of the Order is located at United Theological Seminary, its membership consisting of faculty, staff and students. The Order takes responsibility for leading the community in worship once or twice a year as well as for other gatherings of its members.
The Order welcomes as members all who share an interest in sacramental life and devotion. The national office of the Order sponsors an annual award for a senior who has given evidence of a high quality of scholarship in the study of liturgy and is an effective leader of Christian worship.

Publications

Several publications are produced at United Theological Seminary.

This Week at United is a weekly e-newsletter sent to faculty, staff and students at United. It notes what is happening on and off campus for the upcoming week, including events in the community and in the state, as well as staff birthdays and job openings.

United Update is a quarterly electronic newsletter featuring short articles and photographs of campus events and members of the community. It is published four to six times per year and sent to all staff, faculty, students, alumni/ae and friends for whom we have email addresses. Current and past issues are on the website.

Keeping in Touch, produced by the Office of Institutional Advancement, includes detailed information about United’s alumni/ae and articles of interest to United alumni/ae and friends. Keeping in Touch is published in spring and fall and sent to alumni/ae, board members, donors and friends of United. The current issue and some back issues are online and print copies are available at the front desk.

The Annual Report is published each year and includes the names of the seminary’s donors and special information about donors and the seminary.

Alumni/ae Relations

The Alumni/ae Association’s mission is to connect, nurture and energize its members in community for mission and ministry.

Introduction

Since 1871, United Theological Seminary has been preparing leaders for the church. Our graduates serve with distinction as pastors, teachers, professors, bishops, community organizers, administrators, health professionals, and business leaders. Our alumni/ae are serving in all 50 states and in more than 30 countries.

All persons who have graduated from United or one of our predecessor schools, Bonebrake Theological Seminary or the Evangelical School of Theology, are members of our Alumni/ae Association. The lifetime membership fee is assessed to current students each semester. If a student withdraws from the seminary before graduating, any alumni/ae fees paid remain with the Association.

Lifetime membership in the Alumni/ae Association gives these benefits to all United Alumni/ae:

30% discount to all United sponsored conferences and lectures

30% discount to any Lifelong Learning program through the School for Discipleship and Renewal (including our emerging online and hybrid course offerings)

30% discount to United’s Regional Exploring the Faith Lecture Series
50% discount to audit any graduate level class with approval of instructor ($175 per class)

FREE access to EBSCO online database including ATLA Religion Database and thousands of New and Old Testament abstracts

An executive committee composed of members-at-large governs the Alumni/ae Association.

The Alumni/ae Association supports lifelong learning in several ways; stimulating academic inquiry through the "Exploring the Faith" regional lecture series, the annual J. Arthur Heck Lectures on campus each fall, and ongoing continuing education through the School for Discipleship and Renewal.

The "Exploring the Faith" lectures are offered as regional continuing education events combined with alumni/ae dinner gatherings featuring a United faculty member and presentation by seminary staff.

The bi-annual alumni/ae magazine, Keeping in Touch, provides news and articles about the seminary and other alumni/ae, highlighting their current publications and achievements.

The Distinguished Alumnus/a, Effective Ministry and Outstanding D.Min. Alumnus/a Awards are nominated by association members and granted to United graduates as deemed appropriate by the executive committee. Alumni/ae celebrating forty years in ministry since graduation are inducted into the Eckels Society during the Heck Lectures.

Members of the Alumni/ae Association contribute to the financial stability of the seminary yearly through the Annual Effective Ministry Fund via gifts and pledges. They support students through the Alumni/ae Ambassador program, one-on-one mentoring relationships, hosting regional Alumni/ae gatherings in their local area, sharing the names of prospective students and donors, and praying for the campus community.

Transcripts

Requests for transcripts by alumni/ae must be submitted in writing, dated and signed (email or telephone requests cannot be honored). Transcript request forms can be downloaded at www.united.edu from the Alumni/ae menu.

Requests should be sent to the Office of the Registrar at United Theological Seminary. Please include a check or money order, payable to United Theological Seminary, for $10 per transcript requested.
