Introduction

Vision

Spirit-led leaders, Christ-like Church, transformed world

Mission

United prepares faithful and fruitful Christian leaders to make disciples of Jesus Christ.

Values

Historic Faith

We believe that the faith in Jesus Christ passed down to us through the centuries by the fathers and mothers of the Church is crucial for the life and witness of the Church today. The Bible is our centerpiece for theological formation and reflection. Through sacraments, creeds, the writings of great teachers and other resources, we grow in the knowledge and love of the Triune God.

Scriptural Holiness

We believe in the life-changing power of the Holy Spirit, who helps us to become Christ-like individuals and communities. Holiness is not simply about personal transformation. It is about transforming the world through faithful discipleship and just action.

Church Renewal

We believe that renewal, whether of individuals, congregations, the Church universal or all creation, is the work of the Holy Spirit, who is always ready to lead the faithful in this redemptive activity.

History

United Theological Seminary traces its history to the former Church of the United Brethren in Christ and The Evangelical Church. Both denominations were made up of largely German-speaking immigrant communities, and both bodies traced their theological roots to the Wesleyan/Methodist movement in the eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries in North America.

In 1871, The Church of the United Brethren in Christ founded Union Biblical Seminary in Dayton, Ohio. In 1910, the name of the school was changed to Bonebrake Theological Seminary. The seminary established its campus at 1810 Harvard Boulevard in Dayton in 1923.

In 1946, The Church of the United Brethren in Christ and The Evangelical Church united to form The Evangelical United Brethren Church. The Evangelical School of Theology, situated in Reading Pennsylvania, on the campus of Albright College, had served The Evangelical Church since 1905, and the union of the two denominations brought about the merger of the two seminaries in 1954 into United Theological Seminary. United Theological Seminary was created by combining the full body of administrative and teaching personnel, the libraries and the financial resources of the two former schools.

With the union of The Evangelical United Brethren Church and The Methodist Church in 1968, United Theological Seminary became one of thirteen theological schools of The United Methodist Church.

In 2005, United Theological Seminary sold its Harvard Boulevard campus and relocated to a newer, completely accessible facility in the community of Trotwood, four miles to the northwest.

United celebrated its rich heritage and commemorated its 150th anniversary on October 11, 2021. United continues to draw upon the abiding commitment, outlook, and religious professions of its founders in its educational mission to a new generation of church leaders, lay and ordained.

Accreditation and Association

United Theological Seminary is accredited by the Commission on Accrediting of The Association of Theological Schools, and the Higher Learning Commission, and per Ohio Revised Code §1713.02, holds a Certificate of Authorization from the Chancellor of the Ohio Department of Higher Education. In January 2023 the ATS Board of Commissioners approved a five-year experiment permitting synchronous online delivery as an exception to residency for half or more of the Doctor of Theology program. See the United website for more information (<http://united.edu/accreditation-association/>).

United Theological Seminary is one of thirteen United Methodist seminaries in the United States and is listed by the University Senate of the denomination as an approved theological school for the education of United Methodist clergy.

For religious leaders seeking advanced research training in history and theology, practical theology or biblical studies.

Purpose

The Doctor of Theology program at United Theological Seminary is an advanced research degree program designed to support the leading teachers, pastors, pastor-scholars, and thinkers associated with various denominations, houses of study and international partners, while expanding knowledge in the fields of History and Theology, Biblical Studies, or Practical Theology.

The Doctor of Theology degree is designed to enable students to:

- Demonstrate an ability to do original research within a specialized field of theology.
- Demonstrate broad knowledge of the history, methods, and major figures of a field of study.
- Demonstrate proficiency in teaching a theological discipline in the church and academy.
- Demonstrate an advanced understanding of the role of academic research, writing, and teaching in the renewal of the church.

ThD Core Requirements – 12 credit hours

- THD800 Advanced Theological Research and Methodology
- THD801 Scholarship for Church Renewal
- THD802 Research Colloquy
- THD803 Comprehensive Examination Seminar

ThD Electives – 24 credit hours

- Determined by student interest and faculty expertise

ThD899 Comprehensive Examinations – 0 credit hours

ThD Dissertation – 6 credit hours

- Required Travel to Dayton: 2 weeks during the first summer, 1 week during the second summer, 1 week during the third summer

Non-Credit Requirements

Coursework

Coursework in the ThD requires successful completion of 42 credits, including 12 core credits, 24 elective credits, and 6 dissertation credits. They are divided as follows:

Core Credits (12)

Core courses are only offered in an intensive format during the two intensive weeks of the Summer term, usually the middle weeks of July. Each course will meet for one week during two summer gathering weeks. Each course will require substantive pre-work, so students should manage their time carefully. Syllabi will be made available one week prior to the Summer term through Canvas.

- Advanced Theological Research and Methodology (3 credits)
Develops students' research skills for theological inquiry, exposes students to research methods and resources, and as a final project has students develop a literature review on a topic in their relevant field of study.
- Scholarship for Church Renewal (3 credits)
Examines the biblical, historical, theological, socio-cultural, and practical foundations for church renewal that leads to mission. It enables students to think creatively about the state of the church in the modern West, the growth of the church in the Global South, and mission in a global context. Considers the place of scholarship in the work of church renewal and mission.
- Research Colloquy (3 credits)
Develops students' research skills for theological inquiry, exposes students to research methods and resources, with a goal of equipping students to prepare the dissertation proposal. Students prepare and present a preliminary literature review, and prepare a plan of research in light of their research interests.
- Comprehensive Examination Seminar (3 credits)
Develops students' research skills for theological inquiry, exposes students to research methods and resources, with a goal of equipping students to defend their literature review and proposal in the Comprehensive Examination. Students prepare and present a literature review and dissertation proposal to classmates.

Electives (24 credits)

Electives are determined by field and research interest. They may be taken as either 800 level seminars, directed studies, or independent readings (a maximum of 6 credits can be taken as independent readings).

800 level seminars

Students may enroll in one of United's many 800 level seminars. These may or may not include Masters students enrolled in advanced (600 level) masters electives. Seminars will be offered synchronously. ThD students may attend in person or virtually through the LIVE classroom. LIVE students must abide the policies set by the distance learning office.

For students with a United Masters degree: In the event that a 800 level elective shares a title with a 600 level elective at United, and the student has, in a prior degree program, taken the same-titled course at the 600 level, the student will not be eligible to take the 800 level elective.

Directed Studies

Students may negotiate with a member of the ThD Faculty to take a Directed Study. A Directed Study will not be approved for Core coursework and will not ordinarily be provided for courses listed in the catalog that are already scheduled. No more than one Directed Study may be taken in a term. The Directed Study must satisfy the credit hour policy of United, which pertains to both Masters and Doctoral students, that all courses require a minimum of 3.5 hours per week of student work per credit hour (3 credit hours, therefore, should require at least 10.5 hours per week). ThD students should expect to spend more time reading each week for a Directed Study. Approval must be secured from the student's advisor, the professor conducting the Directed Study, the Director of the ThD Program, and the Academic Dean. The Directed Study form is available in the Student Hub.

Independent Readings

Students will arrange with a member of the ThD Faculty for two Independent Readings courses (described below). The student and faculty member will agree on a bibliography for study that the student will pursue independently and which do not require either the submission of written work or the assignment of letter grades; rather, these courses are pass/fail and require one meeting near the end of the semester to determine completion of the assigned reading. The Independent Readings course must satisfy the credit hour policy of United, which sets for all courses a minimum of 3.5 hours per week of student work per credit hour (3 credit hours, therefore, should require at least 10.5 hours per week). As this policy is uniform for all graduate programs at United, Masters and Doctoral, ThD students should expect to spend considerably more time reading each week for the Independent Readings courses. An Independent Study form will be made available in the Student Hub.

- Independent Readings I
Students will register for Independent Readings I in either the Fall One or Spring One semester of the program. The purpose of Independent Readings I is to prepare the student for the literature review to be developed in the Summer Two Research Colloquy.
- Independent Readings II
Students will register for Independent Readings II in either the Fall Two or Spring Two semester of the program. The purpose of Independent Readings II is to prepare the student for Comprehensive Examinations, and therefore should be comprised of titles on the Bibliography for Comprehensive Examinations (see Plan of Research below) but not covered in ThD coursework.

Dissertation (6 credits)

Upon approval of the dissertation proposal, students will enroll in the 6-credit Dissertation course during the term immediately following. Any time beyond that required to complete the dissertation will be in continuation for no credit.

Student Orientation

Completion of the online orientation provides the best foundation for student success at United. The orientation fee is assessed upon registration for the online orientation course. ALL new ThD students are required to complete a United online orientation course:

- New students are required to register for the online orientation course and complete it before registering for a second term.
- Registration for a second term will be prevented until this course is completed.

Comprehensive Examinations

Comprehensive Examinations at United consist of three components.

The Dissertation Proposal

The first phase of comprehensive examinations is completed by approved submission of a dissertation proposal. This material will require oral defense in the oral examination, together with the contents of the written examination.

The Written Examination

The written examination is a 48 hour open book examination in which students will be asked to “demonstrate broad knowledge of the history, methods, and major figures of a field of study” (SLO 2). The written examination will be developed on the basis of the Bibliography for Comprehensive Examinations included in the Comprehensive Examination Form (available in the student hub). The written examination will be submitted to the First and Second Advisor for their evaluation. Within two weeks of receipt, the First and Second Advisors must communicate a decision of either High Pass, Pass or Fail to the student and Director of the ThD Program. If an advisor assigns the student a grade of Pass, their decision may include specific advice for further work or conditions that must be met in order to proceed to candidacy. If an advisor assigns the student a grade of Fail, it is assumed the student will retake the examination in part or in whole, as appropriate, unless both Advisors agree to some other procedure. No part of the written examination may be attempted more than twice.

The Oral Examination

Once a student has received a High Pass or Pass from both Advisors, the Program Coordinator will schedule the oral examination. The First Advisor will chair the oral examination. The Comprehensive Examination Committee will consist of three members of United’s ThD faculty: the First and Second Advisor, and one other member appointed by the Director of the ThD program. The oral examination will be two hours, with a brief break at the interim. The first hour will cover material submitted in the written examination. The second hour will cover the Dissertation Proposal.

Each member of the Committee will submit an evaluation form, in which they will render a decision of High Pass, Pass, or Fail. If an examiner assigns the student a grade of Pass, their decision may include specific advice for further work or conditions that must be met in order to proceed to candidacy. If two examiners assign the student a grade of Fail, it is assumed the student will retake the examination in part or in whole, as appropriate, unless examiners agree to some other procedure. No part of the oral examination may be attempted more than twice.

Dissertation

Students will “demonstrate an ability to do original research within a specialized field of theology” (SLO 1) by successful completion and defense of a dissertation related to a specific area within their field of study. This dissertation and defense must demonstrate the student's ability to conduct original research that makes a substantial and distinctive contribution to theoretical knowledge.

Once granted candidacy, the student will pursue the Dissertation Proposal as submitted and defended during comprehensive examinations, under the direction of their First Advisor, unless their First Advisor is on leave, in which case the Second Advisor will direct for the leave period.

While United does not stipulate particular procedures for preparing the dissertation, the First Advisor and student are expected to establish and follow clear procedures for preparing the dissertation. For instance, the First Advisor may propose procedures and, in dialogue with the student, reach an agreement that the student will then write up and submit to the First Advisor.

Any student conducting research with Human Subjects must follow procedures of United's Institutional Review Board, available at <https://united.edu/institutional-review-board/>

The Dissertation Committee will consist of the First and Second Advisor, the Director of the ThD program, one member of the ThD faculty, and one outside examiner. It is the responsibility of the First Advisor, in consultation with the student, to propose an outside examiner to the Director early enough to ensure timely processing in preparation for the evaluation of the dissertation.

Students will submit chapters to the First and Second Advisors as they are written. When the student has completed the dissertation and received the tentative approval of both the First and Second Advisor, the First Advisor will then distribute the dissertation to all members the Dissertation Committee, and schedule the defense, in consultation with the Program Coordinator. The defense will be scheduled four to eight weeks after the dissertation has been distributed to all members of the committee.

Defense

The Director of the ThD Program will chair a two-hour oral defense of the dissertation. The purpose of the defense is to evaluate the merits of the dissertation and to require students to defend the dissertation in the face of the kind of criticism that may fairly be expected by his or her scholarly peers. Following a two-hour oral defense of the dissertation, the committee will consult and reach a final decision with respect to both the dissertation and defense.

For the dissertation and defense, the Committee may decide to award the student a grade of High Pass, Pass or Fail. If the Committee assigns the defense a grade of High Pass, no further work will be required in order to receive the ThD. If the Committee assigns the defense a grade of Fail, it is assumed the student will retake the Defense in part or in whole, as appropriate, unless the committee stipulates some other procedure. No part of the defense may be attempted more than twice. The Director of the ThD Program will communicate to the student the final decision of the Committee.

Doctor of Ministry (DMin)

For religious leaders seeking to strengthen their prophetic and pastoral competence and equip others for ministry and outreach

Purpose

The Doctor of Ministry program at United Theological Seminary is an advanced professional degree in the practice of ministry based on action research methodology. The program is designed to strengthen the work of ordained clergy in the practice of preaching, pastoral care and counseling, chaplaincy, and programmatic ministry, lay leaders for ministry in the church, religious educators, and those involved in a variety of community-based ministries.

The Doctor of Ministry degree is designed to enable students to:

- Demonstrate advanced ability to reflect on spiritual and personal growth.
- Demonstrate advanced ability to reflect on a specific area of ministry through exegetical study of a biblical passage.
- Demonstrate advanced ability to design a ministry project in conversation with a past figure or movement through the study of church history.
- Demonstrate advanced ability to design a ministry project in conversation with a specific element of Christian theology.
- Demonstrate advanced ability to analyze the social dynamics of a specific ministry setting in conversation with an established interdisciplinary framework.
- Demonstrate advanced ability to design a research project in compliance with ethical and legal best practices.
- Demonstrate advanced ability to evaluate the results of a carefully designed and implemented ministry project.

Curriculum

The Doctor of Ministry program utilizes a faculty mentor-based contextual model of education. This program requires a combination of self-initiative and collegial action/reflection. The curriculum is intended to develop both individual leadership skills and the ability to support the leadership of others. The two educational goals are achieved through focus group participation and faculty mentor supervision. Individual leadership is achieved through the identification and execution of a research project that is unique to the participant's ministry context. The importance of mutual inquiry is fostered through the focus group process, where individual students reflect theologically by developing a research project with peers who are also engaged in the same general topic. The curriculum is designed to foster critical theological reflection, to model a form of mutual inquiry that will enhance ministry, and to aid the student in the design and execution of an original research project.

Context Curriculum

This part of the curriculum depends largely upon you learning about your context in a dynamic way. You first learn about yourself by writing a spiritual autobiography to discover more about your own strengths, weaknesses, and areas of interest in ministry. In addition, you will research and write an analysis of the context in which you are located. This contextual analysis will help you determine the needs in your context which the DMin project might address. When these documents, the "Spiritual Autobiography," and "The Contextual Analysis" have been completed, you will write a third paper, called "The Synergy" paper in which you will identify how the needs of the context and your ministerial strengths and weaknesses, and personal interests and concerns converge. This third document, "The Synergy" paper will be the first step toward determining the exact nature of the final project. The Synergy paper should include a preliminary abstract that includes a problem statement, hypothesis, methodology, time frame, intended data sources, and anticipated results.

Human Subject Research

At United we are committed to making sure that all research conducted with human subjects is ethical according to legal and moral standards. A process for ethical research training, certification, and approval has been developed and all students in the Doctor of Ministry program will be expected to participate fully in all required activities to maintain the highest ethical standards for Human Subject Research (HSR). The application and approval process for all HSR is through United's Institutional Review Board (IRB). Complete information concerning the IRB and the application process can be found on United's Website at <https://united.edu/institutional-review-board/>.

Program Components

The program requires the interweaving of course work, critical reflection on a ministry context, and focus group participation. The educational process makes it possible to develop a high degree of expertise in a particular area of ministry that is rooted in academic inquiry. The goal of the program is for students to test a specialized ministry model that can then be made available for others to use. All semesters foster personal, academic, and contextual growth.

The program is 60 credit hours divided into six semesters of ten credits each. Each semester begins with a five-day in-person Intensive.

Each Semester includes a mid-semester focus group meeting in addition to the Intensive meeting. Students will attend lectures (beginning in Semester One) and write short papers called Precis that will be presented to their peers (beginning in Semester Two), and several significant papers throughout the semesters. In Semester Five the student undertakes the research and writing of the thesis project. The Final Exam (project defense) and Thesis Completion are scheduled in Semester Six.

Non-credit requirements

- Online Orientation for Semester One: Orients new doctoral degree candidates to United's online learning environment. Students will also complete the entering student questionnaire. Completion is required two weeks prior to the Semester One Intensive. Completion is required to register for Semester Two.
- Doctoral Graduation Questionnaire: Students can access this questionnaire along with the Intent to Graduate Form in Canvas. Questionnaire must be completed by November 30 for Fall Semester Six and April 30 for Spring Semester Six.

- Until Semester Six students complete the Intent to Graduate Form, the remaining Semester Six forms will not be accessible in Canvas.

Semester Process

Each of the six terms of the program focuses on a particular aspect of the work toward the DMin degree.

- Semester One focuses on an analysis of the participant's life and ministry experience, and the context within which the DMin project will be executed. These two analyses are assessed together in a Synergy to determine the direction of the DMin project itself through Problem Statement, Hypothesis and 250-word Abstract. This term includes instruction in Biblical Studies and Church History. The student writes Chapter One of their final project.
- Semester Two focuses on the student's research into Biblical and Historical Foundations that undergird and address the DMin project. The student writes Chapters Two and Three of their final project.
- Semester Three focuses on the student's research into an aspect of Christian Theology and an Interdisciplinary field that undergird and address the DMin project. The student writes Chapters Four and Five of their final project and develops a project proposal for the design of their project.
- Semester Four focuses on Candidacy Review for continuation to research and Human Subject Research through the Institutional Review Board.
- Semester Five focuses on the implementation, analysis, and documentation of the research project and the student writes Chapter Six of their final project. It also includes final exam (oral defense) preparation.
- Semester Six focuses on the final exam (oral defense), thesis completion and post-defense instruction for the Doctor of Ministry degree.

At the end of Semester Six, if the student requires more time to finish the requirements for graduation, they will register for "Project Continuation," for a maximum of three Semesters. All students registered for project continuation will remain with their focus groups and will be required to attend the Intensive weeks on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday. In order to fulfill the requirement, they will attend Chapel and Plenary, the Monday evening and Wednesday evening worship services, and their focus group sessions in the morning and work with their mentor on their projects during the afternoons. The mentor will provide guidance and encouragement to move the student from where they are with their project to completion of all the requirements for graduation.

Intensives

The in-person intensives introduce students to current issues that are impacting ministry. Each Intensive is organized around a specific theme that is taught by national leaders. The Intensives also provide the setting for course work in Bible, Theology, History, and interdisciplinary study for the development of research methodologies, and for Focus Group consultation. The uniqueness of each term requires students to participate in all six semesters; therefore, there can be no admission with advanced standing.

Intensive Sessions Include:

- Worship
- Plenary Sessions focus on the theme of the intensives
- Focus Group meetings emphasize each intensive theme and the subject matter of the focus group
- Module Work concentrates on the required academic curriculum. All module work relates directly to aspects of the students final projects.
- Seminars offer time for peer and faculty feedback of student work

Focus Groups

In addition to the face-to-face Focus Group sessions held during the Intensive weeks, doctoral students meet regularly with their Focus Groups between each Intensive. Each of these Interim Focus Group sessions meet for a minimum of thirty-two (32) contact hours. During the Focus Groups, members will discuss and approve works-in-progress, issues relevant to the core curriculum, and the focus group curriculum. Candidacy reviews and final exams may also be scheduled during these Interim Focus Group meetings. The location and time of the Interim Focus Group sessions are determined by the Faculty Mentor(s), in consultation with the students and Faculty Consultant, at the immediately preceding Intensive. March and October tend to be the appropriate months for the Interim Focus Group sessions. At least one Interim Focus Group Session per academic year may be held in person. (Extenuating circumstances regarding a virtual option will be considered by the Faculty Mentor(s) in consultation with the Faculty Consultant and students.) The other Interim Focus Group session may be held virtually. Attendance shall be taken in Canvas at all Focus Group Sessions whether they are virtual, in person, or a combination. Virtual sessions will be conducted online using WebEx.

Regular participation in Focus Group sessions is required of members throughout all semesters of the program. Given the importance of your contribution to your peers, as well as their feedback on your work, your attendance at these Focus Group sessions is critical. Failure to attend compromises the integrity of the Focus Group. Any absence requires notice in advance to the Faculty Mentor(s), who then notifies the Associate Dean of Doctoral Studies. Please be in communication with your Faculty Mentor(s) regarding absences, as excessive absences may result in involuntary withdrawal from the DMin program. You would have to retake, at your own expense, the semester from which you were withdrawn. United's program is intensely collaborative, and your peers rely on your gifts and discernment to facilitate their work. The reverse is also true; you do not want to forgo your peers' input concerning your work. When all students fully participate in the stimulating conversations of the Focus Group sessions, the maximum potential of the group is realized.

Evaluation

Evaluation of the program is conducted by faculty mentors and through the Doctoral Studies Office. The evaluation process consists of:

- Grading in Canvas
- Candidacy Review
- Final Examination

It is important that participants provide constructive, honest criticism of each other.

The standard forms used in the evaluation process are the Candidacy Review Team Evaluation, and the Final Examination Committee Report.

Instructors

Faculty Mentors

United faculty mentors serve as instructors for each Focus Group. Faculty Mentors are experienced in various areas of academia. The Faculty Mentor is the most important instructor in assisting students in the development of their semester papers and designing their research projects.

Faculty Consultants

United faculty consultants serve as resource persons for each focus group. With the Faculty Mentor(s), Faculty Consultants will assist students in developing the Foundation chapters for the final research project.

Professional Associates

Each student is required to seek the advice of at least three experts in the field with terminal degrees.

- Registration for a second term will be prevented until this course is completed.

The Contextual Ministries program requirements for the MDiv degree program include Contextual Ministry coursework, Field Education Placements, and the Contextual Theology Immersion Trip. Contextual Ministries encourages students to develop stronger skills in:

- Spiritual disciplines for a life of holiness while developing professional competence
- Critical understanding(s) of church leadership and corresponding criteria for further development of leadership skills
- Well-bounded relationships for the support of self and ministry
- Discernment of gifts and call as means of professional thriving in ministry
- Identity development and self-understanding leading to a greater capacity to love
- Critical theological reflection that speaks to the church/world, yet weaves concrete experience of the Spirit
- Engagement of cross-cultural and interreligious understanding and communication

1. Contextual Ministry

MDiv students are required to take the following Contextual Ministry courses:

- CM510 Contextual Ministry 1 (Includes On Campus Fall Retreat)
- CM511 Contextual Ministry 2
- CM610 Contextual Ministry 3 (Includes On Campus Fall Retreat)
- CM611 Contextual Ministry 4

Contextual Ministry 1 and 2 must be completed before taking Contextual Ministry 3 and 4. Students should take either Contextual Ministry 1 or 2 in their first term.

2. Field Education Placements

MDiv students are required to complete two units of Field Education:

- CM501 Field Education Unit 1
- CM601 Field Education Unit 2

Field Education units must be completed while enrolled in a Contextual Ministry course. Placements that extend beyond the Contextual Ministry course, including summer internships, must be approved by the Director of Contextual Ministry.

For each unit, a student is required to complete a total of 200 hours at their approved site by working no fewer than 10 hours a week over the course of a least 12 weeks.

A placement is negotiated between the field education site, the mentor, and the student, with assistance and approval by the Director of Contextual Ministries. It is the student's responsibility to discern her or his interests and the type of placement in which she or he desires to learn and serve.

A job listing is located on the HUB and contains both voluntary (non-paying) and compensated positions, some of which qualify for Federal Work Study funds. Each student works on-site at the Field Education site and meets with a mentor weekly.

3. Contextual Theology and Immersion Program

The Contextual Theology and Immersion program is a faculty initiative designed to prepare students for encounters with Global Christianity and religious traditions in diverse cultural settings. The purpose is:

- To develop sensitivity, deepen Christian discipleship, and heighten capacity for sustenance in interreligious and intercultural complexities
- To provide a conceptual, liturgical, and practical introduction to theologies of religious pluralism and comparative discipleship
- To examine students' theological integration and preparedness for ministry in culturally and religiously pluralist environments through an international immersion experience, which concludes with a post-experience, critical theological reflection.

After completion of prerequisites—NT500 or OT500 (Introduction to the NT or OT), TH502 Introduction to Theology, and CM510 or CM511—MDiv students are required, and other degree candidates are invited, to register for CM620 Methods of Interreligious and Intercultural Encounter. When registering for CM620, students should also register for CM621 and contact the Dean's Office to select a trip from an approved list. Trips generally take place during early January or August/September months. Students must complete CM620 at least the term before their desired travel. Upon successful completion of the course, which includes submission of a copy of a valid passport, students participate in the immersion experience, which, as a rule, takes place outside of the United States and Canada within a cohort of no less than six students. Exceptions are granted only with the approval of the Academic Dean. The immersion trip must be completed prior to graduation. Spouses and older children are encouraged to participate when possible.

In service of students' learning, the monies for this program are interwoven into the fee structure of the MDiv degree program. An Immersion Experience surcharge of $75 per credit hour provides a way for students to accumulate the funds needed for the Immersion Trip. The transcultural fee is automatically built into MDiv courses taken at United. Additional funds might be raised from a student's congregation or in other ways, should the student choose a trip that exceeds the planned amount.

Any shared/transfer credit from other institutions will be entered on to the student record as Advanced Standing. Each credit hour of Advanced Standing will be charged a $75 transcultural fee that goes towards the Immersion Experience trip.

These surcharge funds are non-refundable, except for students officially transferring to another institution or withdrawing from the institution. In such cases, authorization will be needed from the Academic Dean. In addition, a 5% administrative fee will be assessed that will reduce the amount refunded.

Masters Course Modalities

United offers courses in five modalities: Dayton, Virtual, Online, Hybrid, and Intensive. For course dates, see the Academic Calendar in the Course Planning Guide.

Dayton courses meet synchronously on campus during the traditional fourteen-week terms in the fall and spring. Unless otherwise stated, Dayton courses meet on campus weekly for three hours.

Virtual courses meet synchronously during the fall and spring terms. Virtual courses allow distance students to join on campus classes via video conference. This technology has become increasingly reliable and stable; however, Virtual students will need a stable internet connection and webcam to access these classes.

Online courses meet during the traditional fourteen-week terms in the fall, spring and summer. Coursework is usually divided into weekly modules. Students can engage in weekly discussions, assignments, and other forms of course work at any time of the day or night but should complete assignments by the date they are due.

Online Learning has been developed as a learning modality that enhances the student's ability to learn from a distance (the teacher and students in different locations) with the same rigor and quality as learning within courses that are offered on campus. Learning via online modalities is not the same as learning in the classroom. The student will need to take responsibility for seeking answers and becoming a self-motivated learner. Online courses require good time management, planning, writing, and communication skills. All students will be required to complete the online orientation course to learn adequate technology skills, but students must be willing to learn technology quickly. There are helpdesk services available to students who need additional help at onlinehelp@united.edu.

Hybrid courses require that more than 50% of course time is completed on campus. The rest of the coursework is completed in the online format. Master Hybrid courses begin with online learning, spend 2 ½ days in person during a gathering week, and then conclude with online learning. The Contextual Ministry Hybrids meet 2 ½ days on campus and then nine weeks online. Hybrid courses meet United Methodist residency requirements.

Intensive courses require prework online, 1 week of in person learning, and post work online. Intensive courses require students to come to a five-day gathering week.

Our broad selection of course modalities allow you to determine which modalities best meet your needs. Online, Virtual, Hybrid, and Intensive modalities allow students to learn from a distance without leaving their ministry context.

Admissions

Introduction

United Theological Seminary seeks students who wish to deepen their personal and communal faith in Jesus Christ, experience and reflect on relevant issues facing today's Church, and develop competency in the practice of ministry.

Although each degree program is designed with unique objectives in mind, all degree programs prepare graduates for effective leadership in the Church and society.

Prospective students are asked to submit an application with the necessary supporting documentation that attests to an adequate academic record, an obvious awareness of God's call in their lives and the affirming witness of the gathered community.

Campus Visits

United invites prospective students to schedule campus visits, preferably when classes are in session.

Visiting on a Tuesday during the fall, spring, or summer term enables participation in community worship. Prospective students may attend a class of interest, meet current students and faculty, tour the campus, and meet with admissions staff.

In addition, United often sponsors special ministry events to assist prospective students in discerning their call into ministry. United offers an Explore United Open House in the Fall and Spring term for Doctoral programs and Summer, Fall, and Spring for Masters programs. There are also Virtual Open Houses for the Masters and Doctoral programs. Participation in these activities offers prospective students another means to learn about theological education at United.

Persons planning to visit the campus on specifically designated dates or at other times should contact the Admissions Office two weeks in advance.

Financial Aid

A financial aid package may include eligibility for Scholarships, Federal Work-Study, and Loans

Introduction

The Financial Aid Department works with students to determine and access resources available to support their theological education. Finances are handled with a view toward fiscal responsibility, integrity, accountability, and thoughtful planning. Financial assistance is available through both the seminary and outside sources. United attempts to present a comprehensive financial aid package which may include eligibility for scholarships, federal work-study, and loans. For a complete listing of financial aid principles and procedures, contact the Financial Aid Department, studentaid@united.edu.

Eligibility

Federal financial aid includes federal work study and federal loans. A student must be enrolled in a degree granting program to participate in the federal work study and federal loan programs. In addition, Master students must be enrolled for a minimum of 6 credits each term, to be eligible for federal loans.

United offers scholarships to students who are enrolled in Masters or Doctoral degree programs. Scholarship applications are reviewed by a diverse Student Aid Committee made up of faculty and staff of United. Students must maintain a minimum G.P.A of 2.5, unless specified by the scholarship. Awards will be based on credit hours for the term, if a student drops or withdraws from a course, the scholarship will be adjusted accordingly.

Financial aid at United is based on demonstrated academic merit and financial need as determined by the school according to federal guidelines. Financial need is defined as the difference between cost of attendance and the student's total financial resources including expected family contribution (EFC), scholarships, grants, work-study.

Application Process and Deadlines

Students must submit a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) each academic year to be eligible for scholarships, federal loans and federal work-study. The application can be completed online at www.studentaid.gov. United Theological Seminary's school code is G03122.

United Financial Aid and Scholarship applications are available through the applicant portal for new students and in the Student Hub under Student Aid for continuing students. For further information contact the Scholarships Office, scholarships@united.edu.

Priority Deadlines for entering students:

- Entering in Summer Term: April 1
- Entering in Fall Term: July 1
- Entering in Spring Term: December 1

Deadline for continuing students:

Federal Aid Request and forms must be submitted to Financial Aid by March 1 in order to receive financial aid for the coming year.

- Receipt of financial aid one year does not guarantee receipt of financial aid in subsequent years.
- Students can apply for scholarships on the Student Hub anytime during the year. Scholarships will be posted as they become available.

Loans

Financial aid in the form of federal loans requires that a student be accepted and enrolled in one of United's Masters or Doctoral degree programs. Enrollment must be at least six credit hours in each term. The student must:

- Be a U.S. citizen or permanent resident
- Complete all financial aid application requirements
- Maintain satisfactory academic progress as determined by academic course load and grades

The Federal Student Loan Program offers graduate students unsubsidized loans only. Unsubsidized loans do not require students to demonstrate need. Repayment for all loans begins six (6) months after the last date of enrollment or if the student drops below half-time. Students should contact the Financial Aid Office for further information.

A Master Promissory Note (MPN) and Entrance counseling must be completed when using federal loans. The MPN and entrance counseling can be completed online at studentaid.gov.

Private credit based loans are available for students who have reached their aggregate loan limit, visit the United website to view our partner loan lenders.

Denominational Assistance

For many major denominations, including The United Methodist Church, there are grants, scholarships, and loan assistance. Students are encouraged to consult their denominational offices early in the year for policies, procedures, and the denomination's application process.

Employment Opportunities

Students wishing to work on campus or off campus who are eligible for need-based financial aid may be employed through the Federal Work-Study program. Generally, Master students are eligible to work up to 20 hours per week and Doctoral students are eligible to work up to 40 hours per week, however hours can change based on the needs of the position and the annual budget. Some contextual education placements can be funded through the work-study program. Positions may not be political or faith based.

Caution must be exercised in accepting on-campus and off-campus employment that may place excessive time demands on full-time students.

Scholarships

In addition to loans available through Financial Aid, United Theological Seminary provides opportunities for scholarships.

These scholarships are funded largely through endowed and the annual fund supported by United alumni/ae and friends. Available scholarship information can be found in the Student Hub under Student Aid tab. Questions can be sent to studentaid@united.edu.

To be eligible for scholarships:

- Students must be enrolled in one of United's Masters or Doctoral degree programs.
- Entering students must have at least a 2.5 cumulative GPA in their undergraduate degree and/or previous graduate studies.
- Continuing masters students must maintain a cumulative GPA of 2.5, unless specified by the scholarship. Continuing doctoral students must successfully complete each semester.
- Student must complete the current academic year FAFSA, studentaid.gov

Most scholarships give preference to students with outstanding academic records.

Application Process

Prospective Students: Applications to apply for federal and institutional aid (i.e. scholarships) will be on the Applicant portal. Students will be sent an offer letter by email which will outline their awards for the year they are applying for. To ensure timely processing, prospective students are encouraged to apply for aid no later than 2 weeks prior to the start of their semester.

Continuing Students: Applications to apply for federal and institutional aid (i.e. scholarships) are on the Student HUB under the Student Aid tab. Students will be sent an offer letter to their United email address notifying them of their awards each academic year. To ensure timely processing of federal aid, continuing students are encouraged to complete their application at the beginning of the spring semester. Scholarships can be applied for on a continuous basis, students will be notified by email as new scholarships become available.

Awards

Scholarship awards vary in amounts. Full financial packages may be a combination of scholarships, work-study opportunities, and federal loans. As funding allows most scholarships will be renewed each year as long as the student continues to meet eligibility requirements.

Acceptance of any institutional awards (scholarships, tuition waivers, or tuition discounts) will cause federal student loans to be decreased by an amount equal to the scholarship award accepted. Whenever possible the federal student loan would be adjusted prior to the issuance of the financial aid offer letter. In cases where the student declines the institutional scholarship award the loan amount will be adjusted accordingly.

The reduction of the loan process is to ensure there is not an over-payment in excess of the cost of attendance; as well as assist with the reduction of loan debt upon graduating or leaving the seminary.

Student Financial Aid Refunds

United Theological Seminary works hard to disperse financial aid refunds to students as soon as possible. Typically, students who are eligible for a refund can expect to receive it 4-6 weeks after the official drop date for a given term. Though students may expect a refund, they should make plans to begin the term without relying on the refund. Please note refunds are received after classes begin. Students will need to purchase textbooks or other classroom material prior to receiving a refund, to prevent from getting behind with coursework.

Federal Refund Policy – Withdraws

Student aid is posted to the students account at the start of each period; however, aid is earned for the funds as the student completes the period. If a student withdraws during the payment period of enrollment, the amount of Title IV assistance earned up to that point is determined by a specific formula, called the "Return of Title IV Funds Policy" calculation. The policy states if a student withdraws, ceases to attend classes, or is dismissed from all classes, the Financial Aid Office is required by Federal regulations to recalculate Federal aid, with the exception of work-study earnings.

Unofficial Withdraw and Administrative Withdraw Due to regulations and the definition of what defines an "F" failing grade, the US Department of Education has required Institutions of Higher Education to adopt a grade that reflects such issues as a student who has begun a course of study but never completed the course during the registered term (i.e., they stop attending, turning in work, or discontinue any educationally related activity/contact with the course/instructor. United has adopted a "UW (Unofficial Withdraw) as this grade.

If a student does not complete the term they cannot arbitrarily be assigned an "F" grade. They must be given a "UW" on all official grading platforms. If a student has been inactive for two consecutive terms, their student status will change from "Current" to "Administrative Withdraw." If a student has been Administratively Withdrawn, and wishes to resume coursework at United, they should contact the Admissions Office. United does not track attendance.

If a student begins the official withdrawal process or provides official notification to the school of his or her intent to withdraw, the date of the seminary's determination that the student withdrew would be the date the student began the official withdrawal process or the date of the student's notification, whichever is later. If a student did not begin the official withdrawal process or provide notification of his or her intent to withdraw, the date of the institution's determination that the student withdrew would be the date that the school becomes aware that the student ceased attendance.

The amount of assistance that is earned is determined on a pro rata basis. For example, if the student completed 30% of their payment period or period of enrollment, the student earns 30% of the assistance originally scheduled to receive. Once the student completes more than 60% of the payment period or period of enrollment, they earn all the assistance they were scheduled to receive for that period. For unofficial withdrawals aid is calculated at 50% of the student's payment period or period of enrollment.

If all the funds earned have not been received, a post-withdrawal disbursement may be due. If a student receives less assistance than the amount earned, those additional funds may be available to be disbursed to the student. This process is called a post-withdrawal. Any Title IV funds that the student has earned but have not yet been disbursed to the students:

- Loans will be offered to the student within 30 days. The student has 14 days to respond to accept or decline the funds.
- All post-withdrawal disbursements are applied to the student account first
- If the Return of Title IV (R2T4) calculation results in a credit balance on the student's account, it will be disbursed as soon as possible, no later than 14 days after the calculation of the R2T4.

If the R2T4 calculation results in an amount to be returned that exceeds the school's portion, the student must repay some funds. This could result in returning loan funds to the lender, and a balance due on your student account that must be paid in full prior to registering for a future course.

All Return to Title IV Funds will be processed as soon as possible but no later than 45 days after determining the student has been withdrawn.

Funds will be returned in the following order:

- Unsubsidized Direct Loan
- Direct PLUS Loan

It would be in the student's best interest to contact financial aid before dropping or withdrawing from a course to determine if you will owe a balance to the school.

Student Refund Policy – Non-Title IV

Credit on a student's account can be created by the student overpaying, the student dropping a course after it has been paid for, and from outside scholarships/conference matching.

The overpayment will show on the student's monthly statement received from the Student Billing Office.

The overpayment will remain on the student's account and will be applied to future terms, unless the student requests a refund. Once the student requests a refund, the refund is processed through our third-party processor, ECSI/RefundSelect. Refunds are either direct deposited or a check is mailed to the student. The choice is made by the student.

Payment Policy for All Students

All tuition and fees must be paid prior to registration deadlines. Any outstanding charges from the previous term will delay course registration until such charges are met. Failure to pay tuition in a timely manner may result in loss of academic credit for that term.

All financial obligations to the school must be met in full prior to the date of commencement to receive a diploma. Students who do not meet these financial obligations may not participate in the graduation ceremony or receive a diploma or transcripts until all obligations to the school are fulfilled.

United permits payment by cash, check, Visa, MasterCard, Discover, or online at www.united.edu. All payments are to be made directly to the Business Office. Inquiries regarding payment and payment options should be directed to the Business Office.

Veterans Administration Payment Policy

United Theological Seminary will not impose any penalty, including the assessment of late fees, the denial of access to classes, libraries or other institutional facilities, or the requirement that a Chapter 31 or Chapter 33 recipient borrows additional funds to cover the individual's inability to meet his or her financial obligations to the institution due to the delayed disbursement of a payment by the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs.

Deferred Payment Plans for Full-time Students

Full-time masters and doctoral students may arrange to pay tuition and fees for all terms on a deferred basis.

Students may pay their tuition for a term in four monthly installments. The first payment is due at the time of enrollment. Subsequent payments will be automatically charged to the student's debit/credit card. The student will sign a Promissory Note. See the Business Office for details.

Charges incurred during the term are due in full upon receipt of written notice from the Business Office and are payable in addition to any deferred payment obligations.

Delinquent Accounts

Students whose financial obligations are not paid in full are not eligible to register for the next term or to receive transcripts, grades, enrollment verification, or degrees. Financial obligations include tuition, fees, housing, library fines, and all other items billed by the seminary.

Students who have been submitted to United's collection agency must complete the following prior to re-enrollment and registration:

- Settle past due balance with collection agency
- Pay United $1000 re-enrollment fee
- For the next two (2) terms, the student is not eligible to use the deferred payment plan described above

Billing Disputes Procedure

Students whose financial obligations are not paid in full are not eligible to register for the next term or to receive transcripts, grades, enrollment verification or degrees. Failure to pay tuition in a timely manner may result in loss of academic credit for that term.

Students anticipating graduation must pay in full all financial obligations to the school at least 14 days prior to the date of commencement. Students who do not meet these financial obligations may not participate in the graduation ceremony and will not receive a diploma until all obligations to the school are fulfilled.

Student Billing Complaint/Appeal Process

- Contact student billing with all billing issues and inquiries
- Student billing has 48 hours to research and resolve the billing issue. If the issue is resolved and both parties are satisfied with the outcome the complaint is closed. If the issue is not resolved or cannot be resolved by the student billing coordinator, then the student billing coordinator will start the appeal process.
- If the issue is not resolved or can't be resolved within the 48 hours then the student billing coordinator will start the appeal process by completing a special circumstance form. The student billing coordinator will list the issue/s and attach the appropriate documentation. The document is then forwarded to the following departments (Financial Aid and Registrar) for additional information that may assist with the review process. After each department has reviewed the document and attached information if applicable, then final review and approval is sent to the Academic Dean and the Vice President for Finance and Administration. If the student is in the DMIN program the final review and approval is sent to the Associate Dean of Doctoral Studies and the Vice President for Finance and Administration.

- Once the final approval has been determined, the document is signed by the approving parties (Academic Dean or Associate Dean of Doctoral Studies and the Vice President for Finance and Administration). The document is returned to student billing department. Student billing will notify the student by email of the final approval and the next steps.

Academic Policies and Procedures

Introduction

Upon acceptance, all students agree to abide by the school's policies and regulations. For more descriptive information about United's policies and regulations, consult the Student Handbook. The school reserves the right to change or revise the information in this catalog regarding tuition, fees, courses, and conditions for admission. Any changes will be communicated to students as promptly as possible.

Inclusive Language

United Theological Seminary is committed to equality for women and men of every racial and ethnic background.

The seminary urges students, faculty, and staff to use language that exemplifies respect, dignity, and equality in conversations with seminary colleagues, in public discourse, in classroom discussions, and in writing. Guidelines are included in the Student Handbook.

The Academic Integrity Policy

The purpose of this policy is to clarify and codify the rights and responsibilities inherent in the faculty-student relationship of this community. Academic integrity is integral to formation of Christian character in servant leadership for the church.

Academic integrity is characterized by mutual respect, honest inquiry, and honesty in the discovery and dissemination of knowledge, including academic instruction, evaluation, study, research, writing, preaching and all communications related to worship and learning in this community.

Dishonesty in academic work is a serious violation of scholarship and community, just as stealing another person's property is illegal and harmful to persons. Students are to accept, embrace, and live in harmony with the concept of academic integrity.

Academic integrity includes fair and impartial evaluations on the part of faculty and honest conduct on the part of the students. Consistent with Christian and academic standards, the following conducts are expected:

- Faculty and students are expected to attend classes when scheduled, keep scheduled appointments, make appropriate preparations for classes and other meetings, students should submit assignments when due and faculty should perform evaluations and grading in a timely manner.
- Faculty should use reasonable accuracy in describing course expectations and standards of evaluation, inclusive of the limits of permissible assistance and available to students during a course or academic evaluation.
- Academic evaluations should be based upon good-faith professional judgment in accordance with applicable standards.
- Cheating, fraud, and plagiarism are three types of academic dishonesty that are a violation of this policy inasmuch as the integrity of the academic process requires that credit be given where credit is due.

Cheating may include stealing another person's answers to items on an examination or breaking rules in order to gain an advantage, as well as providing assistance during an academic evaluation. Cheating includes engaging in the intentional and unauthorized purchase, sale, or use of any materials intended to be used as an instrument of academic evaluation in advance of its administration and engaging in conduct that is so disruptive as to infringe upon the rights of faculty members or fellow students.

Fraud is also known in biblical language as “bearing false witness” and may include lying; giving false information in admission documents; altering records of grades and narrative evaluations; misrepresenting your status in relation to the Seminary in any setting of course work, contextual education, Clinical Pastoral Education, Intercultural trip, or other off-campus Seminary- related experience; acting as or utilizing a substitute for another person in any academic evaluation; and attempting to influence or change your academic evaluation or record for reasons other than achievement or merit.

Plagiarism is submitting the work, ideas, representations, or words of another and claiming it as your own, such as copying text from a book or journal, copying text posted on an internet site, or purchasing a paper from someone (a “paper mill”) or using content produced by artificial intelligence (AI) without crediting the source. Plagiarism can also be called “stealing,” as in the practice of claiming as your own the information or results of research projects that were actually conducted by someone else. Plagiarism is also knowingly permitting another to present your own work without customary and proper acknowledgement of the source.

Papers submitted to course sites will be evaluated through the software Turnitin which detects plagiarism including content developed through AI. Academic Integrity and Responsible Use of Artificial Intelligence (AI)

This policy aims to establish guidelines for the responsible use of Artificial Intelligence (AI) by students at United Theological Seminary (UTS) while upholding the principles of academic integrity. It applies to all students enrolled at UTS.

Definitions

- Artificial Intelligence (AI):
 - Refers to computer systems or programs that can perform tasks that typically require human intelligence, such as learning, reasoning, problem- solving, and decision-making.
- Academic Integrity:
 - Encompasses honesty and ethical behavior in all aspects of academic work, including but not limited to assignments, projects, research, exams, and presentations.

Responsible Use of AI

- Authorized Use:
 - Students may use AI tools and software in academic work only when explicitly authorized by instructors or United. Unauthorized use of AI is prohibited.
- Transparency:
 - When using AI in academic work, students must be transparent about its use, disclosing any AI-generated content or assistance in their submissions.
- Attribution:

- Students must provide proper attribution to AI-generated content or assistance when including it in their academic work, following the citation and referencing guidelines established by UTS (Turabian).
- Personal Identifiable Information:
 - United does not control the online AI tools, students are advised to avoid entering Personal Identifiable Information or otherwise sensitive data into any AI prompt.

Educational Purpose: AI tools should be used for educational purposes, such as enhancing learning, research, or problem-solving. Using AI to gain an unfair advantage or to engage in academic misconduct is strictly prohibited.

Understanding and Supervision: Students should have a reasonable understanding of how the AI tool they are using functions. Instructors may provide guidance and supervision to ensure students are using AI tools appropriately. Students must not use AI to generate plagiarized content or to submit the work of others as their own.

Collaboration: If collaboration is allowed, students must clearly indicate their contributions to group projects or assignments when AI is involved. Students must not represent the work generated solely by AI as their own.

Consequences of Academic Misconduct: Violations of academic integrity, including AI-related misconduct, will be subject to disciplinary action as outlined in the institution's academic integrity policy.

Failure to adhere to this policy may result in academic penalties, including but not limited to failing grades, suspension, or expulsion, as determined by the educational institution.

Educational institutions should have mechanisms (Turnitin) in place to investigate and address reported instances of AI-related academic misconduct.

This policy promotes responsible and ethical use of AI by students in academic settings while upholding the principles of academic integrity. Students are encouraged to use AI as a tool for learning and research, but they must do so in a manner consistent with the institution's policies and guidelines on academic integrity.

Violations of this policy may have serious consequences for students as explained in the Procedures below. Instructors are encouraged to post a reference to this policy, a statement of standards for assignments, and consequences for violation of the policy and course standards in their syllabi. Not doing so does not constitute exemption of anyone from adherence to this policy or the enactment of the procedures described below.

For additional information, students may find helpful the discussion of intellectual honesty in Nancy Jean Vyhmeister's reference manual, Quality Research Papers: For Students of Religion and Theology. Master's students are encouraged to purchase this reference manual when they enroll in classes at United. This and other style manuals are available in the United library and may be purchased from online booksellers.

The Academic Integrity Procedures

One who is accused of violating the Academic Integrity Policy ("the policy") is entitled to due process that may include an investigation and review of the charges under the supervision of the Academic Dean. The following steps should be followed in reporting an incident of academic dishonesty.

- Report of an incident: Members of the faculty, instructors, Doctor of Ministry mentors, staff members, employees, members of the administration, and fellow learners at United may submit evidence of a violation of the policy directly to the course instructor or to the Academic Dean. If the incident is first reported to the Academic Dean rather than to the instructor or mentor, or to any other party, the instructor or mentor will be informed of the incident unless, at the discretion of the Academic Dean in consultation with the President, there is justification to do otherwise.
- Investigation: In most cases, the instructor will be charged with initiating the investigation. In some cases, the instructor may elect to refer the case directly to the Academic Dean or Dean's proxy for investigation. The instructor or Doctor of Ministry mentor will gather documentation of the incident and complete a Report of Academic Dishonesty.
- Document the Incident: Documentation may include the paper or examination in question, the signed statement of another party who witnessed the incident, a copy of the original text or material in question that was found in a book, journal, internet site, tape, CD, DVD, floppy disc, or other medium, and any other evidence of the incident. The context of the incident may be any setting of teaching and learning, i.e., classroom, contextual education, transcultural trip, Contextual Ministry group, etc.
- Meet with the student: The investigator of the incident will meet with the student to determine the facts. An impartial observer should be present. Others who witnessed (first-hand) the incident should be present. The signatures of all persons present should be obtained on the Report of Academic Dishonesty. The student's signature indicates informed consent to the procedure.
- Notification of Resolution: If the instructor or mentor finds evidence of violation of the policy, the instructor or mentor may respond in several ways: give a failing grade for the course; offer the opportunity to revise the assignment; or recommend additional intervention by the Academic Dean.

The instructor will indicate the recommendation of resolution on the Report of Academic Dishonesty and forward that form and copies of all documentation to the Academic Dean.

The student will receive a copy of the Report of Academic Dishonesty by postal mail or document delivery service, with a tracking number and delivery confirmation receipt attached.

- No violation has occurred: If the initial investigation determines that violation of the policy did not occur, no additional action will be taken.
- Administrative Intervention: If additional intervention of the Academic Dean is required, the Dean may resolve the case in one of several ways: place the student on academic probation for one year; suspend the student from enrollment with the requirement of remedial education in academic processes of research and writing, with re-admission on probation after one year, according to the Seminary's policy and procedures stated elsewhere; or immediate and permanent dismissal from the Seminary.

The Academic Integrity Appeal Process

A student, who through due process described above, is found to have violated the Policy of Academic Integrity, may appeal outcome of the procedure by submitting a request to the Academic Dean. The process of appeal is outlined as follows:

1. Number of Appeals: One. A student is only eligible to appeal a first properly confirmed incident of having violated the Academic Integrity Policy. If the incident is not overturned as a result of the appeal, any subsequently confirmed (by due process) incident will be cause for immediate and permanent dismissal from United Theological Seminary.
2. Time Limit: A student must initiate an appeal of the decision within fifteen working days (holidays and weekends excluded) of having received the resolution of the incident from the instructor, the Doctor of Ministry mentor, or the Academic Dean.

The beginning date of the time limit will be documented by the student's signature on postal or document delivery service receipt. A student's appeal will proceed on a date and time agreed upon by the student and the Academic Dean, in consultation with other designated participants.

A student's failure to keep the appointment of the appeal will serve as the student's acceptance of the terms of the resolution of the incident and no additional appeal may be filed.

3. Who Should Attend the Appeal: In most cases, the appeal hearing will be presided over by the Academic Dean. The hearing will be attended by the student, the Academic Dean, the person who initiated the investigation, and a member of the faculty of United Theological Seminary who is chosen by the student.

The student may invite to the hearing one support person. The support person chosen by the student may not be an attorney, a spouse, a parent, a sibling, or a child. In extraordinary circumstances, the student and other members of the session may attend the hearing virtually.

The Appeal Hearing Report will be signed by all who are present.

The assignment of expenses for the appeal will be made upon disposition of the hearing. If the charge of academic dishonesty is upheld in any way, the student will be responsible for the expenses. If the student's support person incurs expenses in the appeal process, the student will be responsible. If the finding of academic dishonesty is overturned on appeal, the Seminary will be responsible for the expense.

4. Basis of Appeal: A student must provide documentation in support of arguments against the resolution of the incident.

5. Duration of Appeal: A student's appeal will be heard in one sitting. Deliberation and notification of the outcome will take place within fifteen days following the hearing, holidays and weekends excluded.
6. Outcome of the Appeal: The student will be informed in writing by the Academic Dean of the outcome of the appeal. The outcome of the appeal may take one of the following forms:
 - a. No action—the appeal is denied, and the instructor's or mentor's resolution of the case is affirmed.
 - b. The student receives a grade of NC (no credit) for the course and continues to be enrolled on academic probation for one year. If the student wants credit for the course, the course must be repeated at the student's expense.
 - c. The student is suspended from enrollment for one year and must complete one year of remedial study at the college level and at the student's expense, emphasizing research, writing, or other medium and context in which the violation occurred.
 - d. Upon application for re-admission, the student must provide documentation of having completed the remedial education (writing, public speaking, statistics, multimedia, HTML, XML, etc.).
 - e. The finding of having violated the Academic Integrity Policy is overturned and documentation is removed from the student's file.

The forms required for reporting Academic Dishonesty may be acquired from the Academic Dean's Office.

Academic Schedule

The Doctor of Theology, Masters, and General Certificate school year consists of three terms— summer term (May-August), fall term (September–December), and spring term (January–May), The Doctor of Ministry school year consists of two terms-fall term, and spring term.

Students can take up to two Hybrid classes during a Gathering Week.

Make-up Days Due to Campus Closings

If classes are cancelled due to inclement weather, power outages or other unforeseen circumstances, make-up days will be decided by the instructor in consultation with students.

Faculty Advisors

Upon admission to United, each Masters student is assigned an advisor who assists with the development of an appropriate program of study.

Although every effort is made by the academic staff to assist students in planning to meet all requirements within their degree program, the student is fully responsible for meeting the requirements and deadlines specified in the degree program.

The catalog, Student Handbook, and official academic notices serve to inform students of academic requirements and policies.

Registration

Registration for Summer term is the first Monday in March, Fall term is the first Monday in April, and Spring term is the first Monday in October. Dates for each term are announced via email and on the website. Beginning degree students work with the Assistant Dean of Student Success to register once they have returned their Letter of Intent to the Admissions Office following admission to a degree program.

To register for any term, the necessary financial arrangements must be made in advance. Previous account balances must be paid in full before registration will be permitted.

Change of Degree

A student who wishes to change or add degree must submit a "Change of Degree" status request in order to be admitted into the new degree program. These forms are available on the Student Hub.

Withdrawal from Seminary

Any student wishing to withdraw from seminary prior to the completion of a degree program must submit the "Intent to Withdraw" form. This form is available on the Student Hub.

Students are expected to consult with the advisors prior to formalizing this process. Additional interviews may include Contextual Education and Financial Aid.

Unofficial Withdraw and Administrative Withdraw

Due to regulations and the definition of what defines an "F" failing grade, the US Department of Education has required Institutions of Higher Education to adopt a grade that reflects such issues as a student who has begun a course of study but never completed the course during the registered term (i.e., they stop attending, turning in work, or discontinue any educationally related activity/contact with the course/instructor. United has adopted a "UW (Unofficial Withdraw) as this grade. If a student does not complete the term they cannot arbitrarily be assigned an "F" grade. They must be given a "UW" on all official grading platforms.

If a student has been inactive for two consecutive terms, their student status will change from "Current" to "Administrative Withdraw." If a student has been Administratively Withdrawn, and wishes to resume coursework at United, they should contact the Admissions Office.

Name Corrections and Changes

Students and graduates who wish to correct misspelled names or to change their names on official records are required to present sufficient identification (e.g., driver's license, marriage license, court order, or other official identification), along with a written request, to the Registrar's Office.

The cross-registration agreement excludes all online courses except through Payne Theological Seminary, Lindsey Wilson College, Northeastern Seminary, Southwestern College, Fuller Theological Seminary and Winebrenner Theological Seminary.

Schedule Changes and Refunds

Prior to any schedule changes taking place, students should consult with their academic advisor and the financial aid/scholarship offices if they are receiving any aid. Schedule changes can be made through the student portal or by contacting the Registrar's office.

Classes may be added through the first day of the term start date.

Withdrawal from a course is allowed until the final withdrawal date which can be found on the student portal and results in a grade of "W." This does not impact the GPA; however, the student will be charged full tuition for the course.

The general refund policy is that students withdrawing by the drop date will receive a full tuition refund. After the drop date there is no refund.

Advanced Standing without Credit

Students who wish to substitute another course for an area requirement listed in the catalog shall submit a written rationale to the area faculty.

Upon receiving written permission from the area faculty, the student must also secure signatures from their advisor and the Academic Dean and submit the request and approvals to the Registrar. Email correspondence is acceptable if not able to conduct in person.

Directed Study

Students may negotiate with full-time faculty to take a Directed Study. A Directed Study will not be approved for introductory work and will not ordinarily be provided for courses listed in the catalog that are already scheduled. No more than one Directed Study may be taken in a term.

Approval must be secured from the student's advisor, the professor conducting the Directed Study, and the Academic Dean for master's level students or the Associate Dean of Doctoral Studies for doctoral students. The Directed Study form is available on the Student Hub.

Auditing Courses

For Degree Students

Students enrolled in master's degree programs may audit courses subject to the approval of their advisor and the instructor of the course and payment of the audit fee. Audits can be changed to credit registration prior to the beginning of the course. Credit courses may be changed to audit on the same tuition refund basis as withdrawal from a course. All audits will appear on the transcript.

Alumni/ae may audit courses subject to the permission of the instructor and the Registrar and upon payment of the audit fee. All audits will appear on the transcript.

For Non-Degree Students

Qualified persons who are not in degree programs may audit courses upon admission to the seminary in the Non-Degree Graduate status category, the permission of the instructor, and payment of the audit fee. A Non-Degree Graduate application must be submitted to the Admissions Office. A bachelor's degree or higher is required to apply for admission as a Non-Degree Graduate Student.

As an auditor, the student must fulfill the requirements stated for auditors; these may include required readings, class attendance and other appropriate forms of participation. Auditors will not be required to submit written work for evaluation nor to take examinations.

Auditors will be listed as such on class lists and grade sheets.

Audited classes will appear on transcripts. Audited courses cannot later be changed from audit to credit.

Those Currently Unenrolled

All audit requests will be processed through the Office of Admissions and the Registrar. Auditors are required to apply for admission in the Special Student classification before enrollment in classes to be audited. The Office of Admissions will handle the admission or acceptance process. The Registrar will receive the student's file upon being admitted or accepted and will proceed with processing the audit request. The Registrar will maintain the transcript record.

Satisfactory	C+	75-79	2.33	Fail
	C	70-74	2.00
Failure	F	0-69	0.00

This grading policy will be used for all Core classes, 800 level seminars, or directed studies. Independent Readings will be graded Pass/Fail.

To pass any seminar or directed study, the student must receive at least a B- for that course. Any grade lower than a B- will be seen as equivalent to failure. Students given less than a B- for a course will be placed on academic probation for the remainder of coursework. Students receiving less than a B- for a course while on academic probation will be discontinued from the program unless the Academic Dean permits an exception due to extenuating circumstances. General details regarding the academic probation process, including the appeal process, is available in the Academic Catalog on the website (<http://united.edu>).

Satisfactory Academic Performance

- Grade Point Average of 2.67 or above
- Pace of completion for a Doctor of Theology degree program is a maximum of ten consecutive years.
- All "W" (Withdraw) grades are excluded from the GPA calculations.

Academic Deficiencies

1. Definitions:

- a. Academic deficiency is defined as a course grade or combination of course grades that prevents a student from graduating.
- b. A cumulative grade point average (GPA) of at least 2.67 is required across all courses is needed to satisfy the student's degree requirements.
- c. A student may not graduate if he/she has any unresolved grade of "C+", "C", "F,", "NC," or "I" in any course.

2. Resolution:

- a. If the GPA is below the required 2.67 minimum the student may remedy the deficiency by taking additional courses. An education plan will need to be established with the student and advisor and the student will be placed on a registration hold so the GPA can be verified at the end of the term.
- b. For grades of "C+", "C", or "F", the student may remedy by repeating the course once. The original grade remains on the student's record/transcript; however, once the course is passed, the original grade will be excluded from GPA calculation.
- c. Students cannot substitute for another course for a failing grade.
- d. Unsatisfactory comprehensive exam, dissertation, or defense grades may only be remedied by completing the comprehensive exam, dissertation, or defense satisfactorily.
- e. Incomplete "I" grades are given for inability to complete required work in a course (NOTE: Adjunct professors are not permitted to issue "I" grades without the approval of the Academic Dean.) A grade of "I" will be given to students with extenuating circumstances at the professor's discretion with the exception of adjuncts. The student must resolve the "I" grade 30 days after the term ends. A student cannot graduate with a grade of "I."

- f. Awarding a grade of "I" requires approval from the professor and the completion of the incomplete grade request form. If the student needs more time an incomplete extension form can be completed and requires approval from the professor and the Dean. Both forms will specify the date the student is to complete all work and the grade that will be earned if the student fails to complete the required work by the deadline. If no grade is specified a grade of "F" will be awarded. The original form with the appropriate signatures will be submitted to the Registrar.

Academic Probation and Dismissal

United Theological Seminary reviews all students' cumulative grade point average every term to ensure it is above the satisfactory academic guidelines established by the Academic Dean's Office.

Academic Probation

A student who drops below a cumulative 2.67 GPA will be placed on academic probation and notified by email from the Academic Dean's Office. In order to continue enrollment in the following term, the student will be required to complete the Academic Action Plan form to be signed by the student and the Director of Student Success. The Academic Action Plan will be filed in the student's permanent record by the Registrar. A student on academic probation will not be allowed to take more than nine credit hours per term. The student is responsible for contacting financial aid to discuss eligibility for financial aid funds. The student will be taken off Academic Probation when the cumulative GPA has risen above 2.67.

Dismissal

Students given less than a B- for a course will be placed on academic probation for the remainder of coursework. Students receiving less than a B- for a course while on academic probation may be dismissed from the program.

Doctor of Ministry Grading System

Approved Grading Scale

P (Pass) = Passed successfully.

NC (Not Complete) = Student failed and will need to repeat the term.

I (Incomplete) = Students receive a 30-day extension after the end date of the term.

Incomplete grades are not considered final grades but will be changed to "P" or "NC" as the case requires.

At the end of Term 6, if the student requires more time, they may request registration for "Project Continuation," for up to three terms. A student registered for Project Continuation will receive a grade of "IC" for Term 6, which remains until the student completes the Project Continuation(s) allowed. Once the allowed continuations are completed, a final grade of "P" or "NC" for Term 6 will replace the "IC" grade.

Academic Dismissal Policy

Students who receive a grade of “NC” may repeat the doctoral term and attempt to receive a passing grade; however, the original “NC” grade will remain on the student’s transcript/record.

Students who receive 2 consecutive “NC” grades will be dismissed.

A student dismissed under these guidelines may apply for readmission after one full year.

Satisfactory Academic Performance

- Semesters 1-6 must be completed with a Pass.
- Pace of completion for a Doctor of Ministry degree program is a maximum of ten consecutive years.

Grade and Academic Deficiency Policy

This policy provides instruction for grade procedures and resolution of academic deficiencies at United Theological Seminary.

Satisfactory Academic Performance

- Grade Point Average of 2.0 or above.
- Transfer credit hours approved by the Academic Dean do not count toward a student's cumulative GPA.
- All "W" (Withdraw) grades are excluded from the GPA calculations.

Grade Submission

- Fall grades are due 10 days after the Fall term ends.
- Spring Senior grades are due 10 days prior to the Commencement date.
- All Spring and Summer grades are due 10 days after the end date of each term.

Academic Deficiencies:

Definitions:

- a. Academic deficiency is defined as a course grade or combination of course grades that prevents a student from completing the certificate.
- b. A cumulative grade point average (GPA) of at least 2.0 is required across all courses.

Resolution:

If the GPA is below the required 2.0 minimum the student may remedy the deficiency by taking additional courses.

For grades of "F", the student may remedy by repeating the course once. The original grade remains on the student's record/transcript; however, once the course is passed, the original grade will be excluded from GPA calculation. Core courses require a passing grade.

Incomplete "I" grades are given for inability to complete required work in a course. A grade of "I" will be given to students with extenuating circumstances at the professor's discretion. Awarding a grade of "I" requires approval from the professor and the completion of the incomplete grade request form. The student must resolve the "I" grade 30 days after the term ends. If the professor does not issue a change of grade to the registrar, an "F" will be recorded.

United Theological Seminary reviews all students' cumulative grade point average every term to ensure it is above the satisfactory academic guidelines.

A student who drops below a cumulative 2.0 GPA will be placed on academic probation and notified by email from the General Certificates office. The student will be taken off Academic Probation when the cumulative GPA has risen above 2.0.

Administrative Withdrawal Policy

If a General Certificate student has been inactive for 6 consecutive terms, their student status will change to "Administrative Withdraw." If a student has been Administratively Withdrawn, and wishes to resume coursework at United, they should contact the Registrar.

Graduation

United has three conferral dates each year. August 31, December 31, and May (date varies). December and August graduates' diplomas are sent via mail. All December and August graduates are required to walk at the May Commencement. All students are required to complete an Intent to Graduation form in order to be eligible for graduation. The form must be completed in the student's final term.

Intent to Graduate forms are part of the following final courses:

- ThD Students: Dissertation courses
- DMin Students: Semester 6 or Project Continuation courses
- Master students: Final Review courses

Graduating students are expected to be present at commencement unless a written request to be excused is submitted to the Academic Dean.

The students who have completed the Certificate in Theology and Ministry (CTM) or Certificate in Service and Leadership (CSL) are also recognized at graduation. Those who plan to attend the May commencement should notify the General Certificate Coordinator.

All financial obligations to the seminary must be received eight days prior to graduation to participate in the graduation ceremony or receive a diploma.

Policies Relating to Federal Guidelines

Veteran's Information

Degree programs at United Theological Seminary have been approved by the State approving agency for Veteran's Training. Veterans must complete the procedures required to establish entitlement to an academic program and provide the Registrar's Office with a copy of their Letter of Certification from VA for Educational Benefits (including the chapter under which they will receive benefits.)

Students who are veterans can contact the Registrar for further information and must report to the Registrar any change of status in enrollment or withdrawal.

Privacy Act (Buckley Amendment)

Under the provisions of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (Buckley Amendment), students have the right to inspect and review their educational records held by the seminary and to request correction of any inaccurate data.

United will disclose student information only to those who are authorized and have legitimate need for such information. No records will be released without a written and signed request from the student. No third party requests will be honored without a signed waiver. For further information and assistance, contact the Registrar's Office.

Equal Opportunity Act

United Theological Seminary prohibits discrimination against any individual on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, disability, sexual orientation, marital status, parental status, or veteran status with reference to the seminary's admission policies, academic standards and policies, in the granting of scholarships, loans and other financial aid.

Inquiries regarding the application of this policy should be addressed to the Academic Dean.

Students with F-1 or J-1 Visas

New Student Orientation

F-1 and J-1 international students are required to participate in the on-campus orientation session conducted in the first fall of their attendance.

In addition, a supplemental international student orientation will be scheduled at the beginning of each fall and spring term. All international students are required to participate in this orientation. Content of this orientation provides additional guidance for both academic and student affairs.

Student Registration

The Registrar will register all F-1 and J-1 international students for classes. Students are required to complete a Registration Request Form for each term. This form must be signed by the student's Academic Advisor and submitted to the Registrar by the registration deadlines.

F-1 and J-1 international students are required to be registered full-time (9 or more credit hours) each term unless they complete a Reduced Course Load Form available from the Director of Student Success. This must present a viable reason for approval such as a major illness, a family crisis or final term work.

F-1 and J-1 international students are expected to take classes that meet through the term unless they are only available in an intensive week format. They are only permitted to take one (1) course online in a term.

Term Check-In

F-1 and J-1 international students are required to check in with the Director of Student Success within the first two weeks of each term. The Director will confirm their presence, validate passport entry dates to the United States and update the student SEVP record.

The Director of Student Success verifies proof of insurance on an annual basis with all J-1 students. J-1 international students are required to have health insurance for themselves and their dependents. However, United suggests that all international students obtain health insurance. Insurance policies must be compliant with Department of State regulations.

Employment Relating to F-1 and J-1 International Students

The VP for Enrollment and staff perform all SEVP functions for F-1 and J-1 visa holding international students related to employment.

F-1 visa holders must wait one year before working off-campus. Work is limited to 12 months. F-2 visa holders are not permitted to work.

J-1 visa holders may work either on or off campus upon arriving in the U.S. J-2 visa holders are permitted to work after obtaining employment authorization.

F-1 and J-1 international students should email the admissions office at admissions@united.edu for information and guidance regarding employment regulations.

Residential International Students

F-1 students must be present in the United States within every 5 months. They are required to have a United SEVP official travel signature no later than 1 year old to re-enter the United States. International students should make arrangements in advance to ensure adequate time to obtain this.

All international students are to notify the Director of Student Success when they will travel out of state. The notification should include the date of departure, the destination, the date of return and a cell phone number if available.

Status Termination

F-1 and J-1 international student records in the Student Exchange Visitor Program must be terminated for the following reasons.

- Insufficient funds for education and/or living expenses
- Failure to be in the United States within 5 months of previous stay (F-1 Visa students)
- Failure to provide evidence of current health insurance (J-1 Visa students)
- Academic suspension in good standing

The Director of Student Success will prepare and sign a termination notice and terminate the student's record in the Student Exchange Visitor Information System. The Director will also notify the student of the requirement to depart the U.S. within 30 days. Legal counsel may be sought to review for compliance.

Resources for Theological Education

O'Brien Library

Print and digital resources are valuable to the theological enterprise.

The library's online catalog provides easy access for searching the collection. The web address is <https://utsdayton.on.worldcat.org/discovery/>. The web address for the Digital Theological Library (DTL) online catalog is: <https://libguides.thedtl.org/home>

United Theological Seminary Archives

The Seminary Archives consist of administrative papers, Seminary publications, photographs, audio and audio-visual recordings, faculty publications and papers, and artifacts documenting the history of United Theological Seminary. Many of these historical materials are made available for research purposes upon request by contacting the EUB Archivist, Dr. Andy Wood (awood@united.edu) for assistance.

Print and Media Collections

In the spring of 2020, United Theological Seminary joined the Digital Theological Library (DTL), a co-owned digital library of over forty theological institutions around the country and around the world, pooling their resources to provide members with hundreds of thousands of eBooks, online commentaries, electronic databases, e-journal titles, e-Videos, and much more. As of February 2023, the DTL's online collections consisted of over 1.4 million eBooks, 170 databases, 35,000 journal titles, over 60,000,000 full-text, peer-reviewed articles, over 100,000 music scores, and over 70,000 films and videos.

In August 2023, the O'Brien Library donated a large portion of its circulating print collections to DTL for digital processing and inclusion in DTL's E-Reserve collections. The library currently maintains a collection of around 15,000 print volumes that primarily include biblical reference resources, church history resources, Methodist and Wesleyan research materials, and denominational archive collections relating to the former Evangelical United Brethren (EUB) Church. These print materials are intended for on-site use only, though residential faculty retain borrowing privileges. Many of the print periodical subscriptions formerly held by the library were cancelled due to duplication in DTL's serial collections, though the library currently retains active subscriptions to several Methodist and other denominational print periodical publications. The library also has an extensive microform collection relating to the former EUB Church and predecessor denominations that can be viewed and digitally preserved on the library's ScanPro digital microfilm machine.

Special collections include the Edmond S. Lorenz Collection of early American hymn and songbooks, the J. Allan Ranck Collection of the Friendship Press, the Union Biblical Seminary Collection, and the Waldensian-Methodist Collection.

Electronic Resources

The O'Brien Library now relies exclusively on the DTL for all electronic resources and DTL resources now represent the library's 'circulating' collection. DTL's digital collections include over 1.4 million eBooks, 170 databases, 35,000 journal titles, 60,000,000 full-text, peer-reviewed articles, over 100,000 music scores, and over 70,000 films and videos. Online collections include biblical commentaries and reference resources, as well as recent publications in religious studies from Duke, Harvard, de Gruyter, Cambridge University Press, Bloomsbury, Taylor & Francis, and the Albin Institute. DTL also provides access to the JSTOR, ProQuest, and Project Muse databases among many others, as well as non-English databases in Chinese, Korean, German, Spanish, and French. Other digital collections include the Loeb Classical Library, Naxos Music, Patrologia Latina, and Philosophy Document Center. Major collections are frequently added from publishers such as Brill, Fortress Press, Zondervan, Eerdmans, Baker, Chicago, Yale, Peeters, and many others.

As of August 2020, DTL provides DTL provides member libraries with both Interlibrary Loan (ILL) and E-Reserve Collection access. In addition to its robust licensed eBooks and journals, the DTL also acquires print books and digitizes them to make them available via its E-Reserve system. Both of these services allow DTL to provide its patrons with access to just about any volume currently available, whether digitally or in print.

Access to DTL is limited to current faculty, staff, and students. Alumni of member DTL institutions, as well as institutional 'core constituents' (board members, local clergy, visiting researchers, etc.), are permitted access to the DTL Seminary Bookshelf, or DTLSB. The DTL Seminary Bookshelf provides patrons access to over 1,300,000 ProQuest eBooks with a tremendous breadth and depth in Biblical studies, theology, leadership, ministry, practical theology, history, counseling, pastoral care, and philosophy. The DTL Seminary Bookshelf is available to alumni and other core constituents at a modest monthly fee of $10.00 USD and an electronic application form is available on the DTLSB website. United alums also have access to the ProQuest for Alums database which provides eBooks, electronic journals, dissertations and theses, and other media content.

Library Services and Facilities

The Writing Center is now an integral part of the O'Brien Library and students in need of assistance with written assignments can email writinghelp@united.edu or call (937)529-2235. A full list of services offered by the Writing Center can be found on the Student HUB at <https://online.united.edu/courses/698/pages/writing-center>. (Please note that Writing Center services are intended for Master's level students only.)

The professional library staff provides reference services and online searching assistance. Resources not held by the library can usually be obtained for current students, faculty, and staff through DTL's interlibrary loan service for digital resources.

A photocopier and a digital ScanPro microform reader printer are available (a minimal charge applies for non-United affiliated patrons.). Two study rooms and small group meeting areas are available to individuals and groups for quiet study.

Professional Associations

The O'Brien Library currently retains active membership in both the American Theological Library Association (ATLA) and the Ohio Theological Library Association (OTLA).

Center for Evangelical United Brethren Heritage

The Center for EUB Heritage encourages the study of the religious and ecclesiastical traditions that formed the Evangelical United Brethren Church and promotes appreciation for and use of that heritage within Methodism and in the Church at large.

To this end the center has carried on extensive oral history projects; it has gathered people for consultations and special observances; it produces publications and exhibits; and it holds a large and growing collection of manuscripts, artifacts, and publications directly related to that denomination and its forebears, including the Church of the United Brethren in Christ, the Evangelical Association, and the Evangelical Church. Historical displays of United's rich EUB heritage may be found in the EUB Center's James D. Nelson Room and inside the library.

The center awards a cash prize—the Reber Award—for the best paper submitted on some aspect of Evangelical United Brethren Church history, theology, or church life.

This annual competition is open to students enrolled in accredited institutions of higher education. The awards are in memory of Audrie E. Reber, former missionary, author and active church woman who was a founding member of the center and a member of its advisory board. Award application information is available from the center.

The Telescope-Messenger, an eight-page newsletter, is published by the center twice each year. More information about the EUB Center can be found at <https://united.edu/center-for-the-evangelical-united-brethren-heritage-eub/>.

Information Technology Resources

Technology has become an essential part of ministry; and United expects students to be familiar with using a Windows-based or Mac computer for word processing, browsing the Web, and sending and receiving email. Students enrolling in online courses will need internet access and may need a webcam and headset with a microphone for use in synchronous events or classes.

An email account in the united.edu system has been provided to each degree seeking student as well as a United network account (secure access on campus). All email communications from the seminary will be sent to the students' united.edu email accounts. The united.edu email accounts are web accessible and students may check their email from any internet enabled computer. It is provided by Google (gmail) and has all of the features normally provided by any gmail account, except it will have the (username@united.edu) united.edu extension. Email accounts other than those provided by United are not supported, but students may forward united.edu mail to outside accounts. Each student is expected to check her or his united.edu email account at least once per day.

The student account username and password for logging onto email and on campus computers will be sent to the student's personal email account at the end of the admissions process. Upon receiving the credentials, the student will be able to access the online orientation and online courses once they are open each term. The online orientation course opens approximately four weeks prior to the fall and spring terms. Online courses open at 8:30 am on the morning of the first day of the term.

Access to copy student work at United is available to each degree seeking student. The Student Computer Lab in the library is equipped with a printer for the students to use. The instructions are posted explaining how to log onto the computers and use the copier for printing.

Live internet streaming is provided for many of our programs through live streaming, which gives students the ability to watch or review the major events at United at a later time.

Online Learning Resources

To access all of United's digital resources go to login.united.edu using your student account username and password. You can directly access helpdesk requests, email, calendar, United Online courses, library, and Google drive file storage.

All courses at United have one or more online components, which are accessible on the login.united.edu. United Online is powered by Canvas Learning Management System (LMS), which offers student access to courses from most mobile devices and computers.

An Online Student Orientation will be provided for all students to become familiar with the learning environment and technology used at United.

On campus courses use United Online course sites to give students access to course resources, syllabi, testing, and for uploading written assignments. The Gradebook will be used to communicate grades and offer feedback.

For online courses, all course materials, access to peers, instructor's email, and research access are located in the course sites. All online courses open at 8:30 am on the first day of the term. Syllabi are made available the week prior to the beginning of the term.

All students may access student resources such as the helpdesk, The HUB (for job opportunities and other bulletin boards), Technology Help is provided by request through the onlinehelp@united.edu for one-on-one training sessions for all of our systems (over the phone, or in-person). Sending an email will result in faster service as multiple persons answer the help contacts. Canvas support is available 24/7, 365 days a year by searching guides, email, or phone contact after choosing the help link when you are logged into Canvas. You will see a "?" question mark on the left navigation bar, this will provide several Canvas help options.

State Regulations for Online Programs

United is a member of the State Authorization Reciprocity Agreement (SARA), which benefits students by expanding approval of distance educational offerings across the states. This agreement helps students in SARA states address and resolve any complaints. To see the other benefits, go to the NC-SARA website. All US states and territories are currently members of SARA except for California.

United offers online ministry degree programs in every US state and has either been exempt, approved or is working to obtain SARA approval in these other regions. Contact our Office of Admissions for information on becoming an online student.

Federal and state regulations require that all institutions of higher education comply with existing state laws regarding distance learning. As these regulations are continuously evolving, United Theological Seminary makes every effort to maintain compliance.

For state regulations, see <http://united.edu/state-authorization-distance-education/>.

Lectureship

Ryterband Symposium: The Ryterband Symposium (formerly known as the Sanders Symposium) is a joint venture of United Theological Seminary, The University of Dayton, and Wright State University.

It is made possible by a generous contribution from Dr. and Mrs. Louis Ryterband and Mrs. Natalie Roth.

The purpose of the annual fall symposium is to promote better understanding between major religious groups in the Greater Dayton Area.

Clinical Pastoral Education

Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE) is a long-standing partner in theological education. We encourage all Masters students, especially those in the Chaplaincy and Pastoral Care Concentration to enroll in a unit of CPE.

CPE is most often offered in a hospital or other institutional setting. In the basic unit of CPE, students gain 400 hours of intensive experience in chaplaincy and supervised theological reflection on the practice of ministry.

Students may register for six (6) credit hours at United for the basic unit of CPE that is taken while enrolled at United. Students also may take CPE without course credit, by paying a fee directly to a CPE training program.

Accredited training programs in CPE are available throughout North America and in most regions in which students reside. Application materials and more detailed instructions are available on United's website.

CPE Application

United's CPE application materials can be found on the website: united.edu/clinical-pastoral-education/.

Programs for credit must be approved by:

The American Association for Clinical Pastoral Education: www.acpe.edu

The Institute for Clinical Pastoral Training www.icpt.edu
Clinical Pastoral Education International www.cpe-international.org

Dayton area CPE training programs are available at Kettering Medical Center's hospitals and nursing care facility and the VA Medical Center's hospitals and clinics.

Programs are also available throughout Ohio and the tri-state region. ACPE websites have directories of training programs available throughout North America and in many international locations.

Chaplains and Pastoral Counselors

Students who are considering the vocation of chaplain and/or pastoral counselor should be advised that the minimum requirements for a chaplain in most mainline denominations are the Master of Divinity degree and ordination to sacramental ministry. Furthermore, the Board of Chaplaincy Certification, Inc. (BCCI) requires the completion of 72 graduate theological credits for full chaplain certification.

For more information about membership and credentials, please consult these websites:

Community Life

"May the God of peace himself sanctify you entirely; and may your spirit and soul and body be kept sound and blameless at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. The one who calls you is faithful, and he will do this." (1 Thessalonians 5:23-24 NRSV)

The United community is called to work alongside God's grace to help students respond to the call God has placed on our lives: spirit, soul, and body.

At United we strive to order our curriculum and common life to help students become more fully who they are called to be. Faculty, students, and staff participate in worship, Contextual Ministry Groups, retreats, and meetings for Bible study, prayer, and mutual support. By participating in the United community you will be challenged to know God better and to serve God more faithfully. Our hope is that because of United, your mind and heart will more intensely reflect the love of Christ, your spirit will be more attuned to the Holy Spirit, and your body will be more engaged in service among the vulnerable in the world God created.

Inclusive Language

United Theological Seminary is committed to equality for women and men of every racial and ethnic background.

The seminary urges students, faculty and staff to use language which exemplifies respect, dignity and equality in conversations with seminary colleagues, in public discourse, in classroom discussions and in writings.

At United the use of inclusive language is an invitational practice. In the classroom, in worship, and in all other settings of interaction, we ask students to attend to the following broad guidelines:

In our language about human beings, we encourage all members of the seminary community to speak in ways that are respectful of the dignity of all people. For example, we encourage "sisters and brothers in Christ" instead of "brothers in Christ," "humankind" instead of "mankind," "forebears" instead of "forefathers," "chair" or "chairperson" instead of "chairman," "all who are able may stand" instead of "all stand," and "laity" instead of "layman".

In our language about God, we encourage all students to draw from the richness of biblical names and images for God and to demonstrate sensitivity concerning gender-specific language for God. Examples of the range of names and images for God in Scripture and the historical Christian faith include but are not limited to the Holy Trinity, Creator, Maker, Sovereign, Ruler, Savior, Redeemer, Father, Mother, Loving God, Gracious God, the Holy One, Comforter, Almighty, and the like.

Finally, with respect to inclusive language, let us treat each other with respect, care, and grace and give each other room to grow in our understanding of God and the images of God.

Learning Environment

United Theological Seminary is committed to creating and maintaining a community in which administrators, faculty, staff, and students can work and study together in an atmosphere where all can flourish. In today's working and studying environment, we realize it is important and necessary to use communication technology to stay in touch with other areas of our lives. We encourage the respectful use of digital communication tools (cell phones, computers, etc.) in the learning environment, as long as these communication tools do not inhibit or prohibit the learning environment of others.

To maintain an environment conducive to study and meditation for all, the policy of United Theological Seminary is to require that cell phones be set to silent mode during class, seminar, or chapel times. Emergency calls can be taken outside of the classroom. The appropriate use of a laptop, tablet or the like is encouraged during class or seminars as long as the use is not disruptive to those around you. Each instructor can establish specific technological behavioral expectations so as to achieve each course's objectives.

Worship

Community worship on campus and in United Online is as rich as the diverse backgrounds, experiences, gifts, and spiritual expressions of the students, faculty, administrators, staff, and guests who share by planning, and participating in the events of worship.

All members of the United community are encouraged to meet on Tuesday afternoon or gathering weeks for worship. Leadership at chapel services is provided by faculty, staff, students, and guest preachers.

Special Advent and Lenten services, along with other liturgical celebrations, feature liturgists and musicians from a variety of cultures.

Common Meal

Worship on campus usually includes a common meal and community time when announcements and introductions are offered, and conversations take place among all those who have gathered. Common Meal symbolizes and reflects the ways in which members of the Christian community commit to care for one another in all aspects of life.

All on-campus students in Contextual Ministry courses are required to attend Common Meals at lunch on Tuesday's. Distance students are required to attend Common Meals during the Contextual Ministry retreat only. Special community meals may be planned at other times of the year.

The Alumni/ae Association supports lifelong learning through ongoing continuing education opportunities.

The Annual Report and regular email communications provide news and articles about the seminary and other alumni/ae, highlighting their current publications and achievements.

The Distinguished Alumnus/a, Effective Ministry and Outstanding DMin Alumnus/a Awards are nominated by association members and awarded to United graduates on an annual basis. Alumni/ae celebrating forty years in ministry since graduation are inducted into the Eckels Society during the Alumni/ae Awards Banquet.

Members of the Alumni/ae Association contribute to the financial stability of the seminary yearly through the Annual Fund via gifts and pledges. They support students through hosting regional alumni/ae gatherings in their local area, sharing the names of prospective students and donors, and praying for the campus community.

Transcripts

Requests for transcripts can be submitted online through United's website on the Registrar's page. For alumni/ae and former students, a $10 fee must be paid for each transcript request. To request a transcript and pay the transcript fee, go to <http://united.edu/transcript-request/>.

Recruiting

If you would be willing to represent United at a conference, college fair or youth event in your geographic area, please contact the Alumni/ae Relations Office.
